LETTER from the Guardians of the Evesham Union to the Poor Law Board.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Evesham, 27 January 1869.

I AM directed by the Guardians to submit to you the enclosed copy of a Resolution which they have adopted on the subject of boarding-out the orphan children of this workhouse, and to ask for your sanction thereto.

The Poor Law Board.

I am, &c.

COPY of RESOLUTION.

Boarding-out of the Orphan Children of the Workhouse.

That it is desirable to place out the orphan children who are, or may hereafter be, inmates of this workhouse, to board and lodge with cottagers residing within the Union, upon the following terms and conditions:—

The Board will pay three shillings per week for each of such children, provided they have a sufficiency of good wholesome food, and warm and cleanly lodging.

The Board will supply each child with a proper outfit of clothing which is to be kept in repair, and renewed from time to time, by the person with whom the child is placed, and for this, after the first three months, 10 s. quarterly will be paid.

The children are to be sent regularly to school, and on Sundays attend Divine worship. After 10 years of age they may be employed in any labour of which the Guardians approve. One-half of the wages they earn will then be paid to the Guardians, and the other half will belong to the person who shall lodge and clothe them in addition to the above-named weekly and quarterly payment.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians of the Evesham Union.

Sir,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W., 3 April 1869.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of the 27th of January, the 19th of February last, and the 24th ultimo, in reference to the proposal of the Board of Guardians of the Evesham Union to place out the orphan children who are or may become inmates of the workhouse of the Union.

The Board regret the delay which has taken place in their reply, but the proposal submitted to them involved a principle of such importance, that the Board were anxious to give it the most careful consideration before expressing an opinion upon the expediency of the course which the Guardians desired to adopt. Several similar applications have been before the Board at the same time, so that it became necessary to review the suggested adoption of the system of boarding-out orphan pauper children, instead of retaining them in the workhouse, with reference not only to the Evesham Union, but as a question of general policy.

The Board have hitherto been consistently opposed to the system proposed, influenced mainly by the consideration that in view of the great responsibility imposed upon Guardians as regards orphan children, the Guardians would be unable to exercise the necessary control and supervision of the children who may be removed from the workhouse and placed under the charge of those whose main object in taking the children would be to make a profit out of the sums allowed for their maintenance. Other strong objections occurred to them, such as the difficulty of ensuring that some regular education for the children is given as in the schools attached to the Union.

The proposed change appeared to the Board to give insufficient security either for the instruction or the physical well-being of orphan children.

On the other hand, the Board are aware that the system of boarding-out children has been in operation for many years in Scotland, with apparent success. The Board are fully sensible of the many arguments which might be urged in favour of the plan, and provided they could be satisfied that a thorough system of efficient supervision and control would be established by the Guardians, and the most rigid inquiry instituted at short intervals into the treatment and education of the children, the Board have come to the conclusion that they ought not to discourage the Guardians from giving the plan a fair trial; though they cannot be insensible to the fact that a grave responsibility is thereby incurred. The social circumstances of England and Scotland differ in many respects so materially, that the success of the boarding-out of children in the latter can scarcely be considered as a safe criterion that the system will answer equally well in England.

The arrangements for the inspection of the children in Scotland are very rigorous, and a careful organisation is employed for the purpose of selecting the families with whom the children are to be placed. It is evident that the most disastrous consequences would ensue if the greatest vigilance were not exercised in this respect.

The Board desire to impress most urgently upon the Guardians the necessity of taking care that the children to be placed out should be such as being in good health will not miss the constant attention given to the inmates of the workhouse by the workhouse medical officer, and that the person to whom the children are to be entrusted should be such as may be presumed to be able to provide good wholesome food, warm and cleanly lodging, and the necessary personal inspection. The Guardians must also be satisfied that there is a school of the religion to which the child belongs in such proximity to the place where it is to live that it can be regularly attended, and further that the attendance is regularly given. It might possibly be advisable to make the payment of the weekly allowance partly dependent on a certificate as regards attendance at school.

The Guardians must cause the children thus removed from their own supervision to be constantly visited by their relieving officers, and must require them to make frequent reports as to the state and condition of the children, and their treatment. The Guardians must hold the relieving officer strictly responsible for any neglect in respect of such visit and report.

The Board think it right to add that as no regulations have been issued by them which control the Guardians in granting out-door relief to orphan children of such tender years as not to be classed as able-bodied, it is legally competent for the Guardians, without any special authority from this Board, to discharge such children from the workhouse, and to allow them to be placed in charge of persons who for the weekly out-door relief granted by the Guardians would provide them with lodging and maintenance. The Guardians might also pay for the schooling of such orphans so living out of the workhouse, according to the 18 & 19 Vict. c. 34, s. 5.

As regards children old enough and strong enough to work, the Guardians are in a different position, and the last of the resolutions contained in your letter of 27th January last cannot be carried out. It is therein proposed, "that after 10 years of age the children are to be employed in such labour as the Guardians approve, and that one-half of the wages earned should be paid to the Guardians, and the other half to the person who shall lodge and clothe them." The Board must point out to the Guardians that they have no authority to place out children to serve in any capacity, and continue them as paupers. If they are competent to render service, they come within the description of able-bodied persons, and out-door relief would not be lawful. In such cases, upon entering into service, they would cease to be paupers, and the provisions which the Legislature has enacted in the 14 Vict. c. 11, for their protection, would come into operation.

It is clear, therefore, that a proposal which contemplates not only that the persons to whom these young children are entrusted should be authorised to place them out to service elsewhere and to receive a portion of the wages to be earned by the children, but that such wages should in part be paid over to the Guardians themselves, cannot be approved by this Board.

Indeed, it appears to the Board that the Guardians can scarcely have realised the full scope of such a proposition. They will remember that the hiring out of adults of full age by the Guardians is prohibited by the 56 Geo. 3, c. 129, and the Board presume that the omission of children from the terms of that prohibition can only be accounted for from the fact of such a practice not being considered as likely to occur.

In conclusion, the Board request the Guardians to communicate to them very fully the detailed arrangements which the Guardians may determine to make to secure the object they have in view. The Board will watch the experiment with the greatest interest, but with some anxiety.

I am, &c.

COPY “of a REPORT, dated the 16th day of January 1869, addressed by Robert Rawlinson, Esquire, C.B., Government Engineer, to the Right
Honourable George Joachim Goschen, M.P., President of the Poor Law
Board, on the Public Works executed in the Cotton Manufacturing Districts, and the Employment of the Operatives thereon.”

H. FLEMING.

(Mr. Goschen.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
16 February 1869.

To the Right Honourable George Joachim Goschen, M. P., President of the Poor Law Board.

Local Government Act Office,

Sir, 8, Richmond Terrace, Whitehall, S.W., 16 January 1869.

HEREWITH I beg to forward my final Report on the public works executed in the distressed cotton district during the recent cotton famine. Six Tables containing details accompany this Report.

Many details as to the works are given in my previous reports from 1863 to the present time. These are, however, printed in the several Poor Law Annual Reports, and, therefore, may be referred to.

If any additional explanation is required, I will give it to the best of my ability.

Some form of supervision as to repayments of money by the local authorities should, in my opinion, be kept up; there may be an annual return made by the Exchequer Loan Commissioners to the Poor Law Board as to these repayments, which will show, at the end of each official year, how the loan stands.

I have, &c.

PUBLIC WORKS (MANUFACTURING DISTRICTS) ACTS, 1863-64.

REPORT of Robert Rawlinson, Esq., C.B., Government Engineer, to the Right Honourable George Joachim Goschen, M.P., President of Poor Law Board.

Sir,

16 January 1869.

I HAVE the honour to present my final Report on the works commenced and executed under the provisions of the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Acts, 1863-64.

I now beg to add an abstract of the accounts and of the works as executed, with full tabulated statements setting forth in detail all the particulars of the loans, works, and repayments made up to the 31st March 1868. Additional information of a general character is also given.

ABSTRACT of ACCOUNTS and WORKS.

The amounts devoted to these Acts by Parliament are as under :—

Act 1863: Amount	-	-	-	£. 1,500,000	at 3½ per cent.
„ 1864	„	-	-	350,000	„
TOTAL				£. 1,850,000	„

The loan to extend to 30 years.

On the 1st January 1865 there had been 155 separate loans; the total amounting to 1,846,082 l.

In 20 towns and parishes parts of the loans sanctioned have been abandoned, amounting to the sum of 79,567 l.

The total sum taken up amounts to 1,766,515 l.

The six Tables annexed to this Report exhibit what has been done under these Acts with regard to the execution of the works.

Table I. sets forth details of the 155 loans which had received the sanction of the Poor Law Board, with the names of the boroughs, parishes, townships, and districts to which loans have been advanced; the local authority from which the application has issued; the date of the Poor Law Board's order, together with a statement of the character of the works proposed to be executed, and the estimated cost of the same, amounting together to 1,846,082 l.

Table II. shows the total amount granted to each place; the amount of separate loans; the amount of instalments advanced; the date of advance, and the amount of loans and residue of loans which will not be taken up.

Of the total amount 1,846,082 l. for which borrowing powers had been given by the Poor Law Board to the local authorities, advances to the amount of 1,766,515 l. have been sanctioned under the authority of 426 sealed orders, up to the 31st March 1868.

In November 1867 letters were sent to the local authorities in all those places that had not wholly taken up their loans, asking if it was their intention to do so; and, from the replies I have received, it appears that the following sums, amounting to 79,567 l., will not be required by the (twenty) 20 local authorities herein named.

Table III. shows the quantities of sewerage, street, and highway works, together with the cubical contents (in millions of gallons) of the impounding reservoirs, all of which works have been executed, or nearly so, in respect of the sums placed in the first three columns of Table I. With reference to the character of the works undertaken, the larger portion of the expenditure has been upon sewerage and street improvement works, including the formation, paving, flagging, channelling, and kerbing of streets, and also the widening, reforming, and improvement of highways in the rural districts.

Of the 1,768,515 l. advanced to the local authorities, 358,514 l. has been expended on sewerage works, and 813,007 l. on road and street improvement, making 1,171,521 l. as a total.

The cubical contents of the reservoirs forming the storage of the waterworks which have been undertaken for the several towns in the district in respect of the sum of 414,629 l., represents an aggregate of 1,480,675,000. This is equivalent to 20 gallons per head, during 100 days, to 740,337 persons.

Table IV. shows the total quantities of the sewerage, street, and highway works together, with references to all the works executed under the provisions of these Acts, to the 28th March 1868.

The number of houses that have been drained in connection with the above sewerage works is (March 1868) 30,233. But this work is in progress, and will be largely added to.

At Burnley, Glossop, Manchester, Oswaldtwistle, Tintwistle, and Wigan, the waterworks are completed.

At Bolton, Ashton-under-Lyne, and Stalybridge, the waterworks are rapidly progressing towards completion.

The public parks at Bolton, Blackburn, Oldham, and Preston, have been opened to the public.

The public cemeteries at Bury, Dukinfield, Manchester, and Macclesfield are all, either entirely or in part, now open for burials.

The total amount expended (as will be seen on referring to Table IV.) under the provisions of these Acts to the 28th March 1868 was 1,628,747 l. 9*s.* 1½*d.*

Works of river improvement, devised and executed under the powers of the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Acts 1863-64, have already proved of great local utility in preventing nuisance at all times, by presenting a regulated, cleaned and paved waterway, where before all was irregularity and obstructed filth; and, in affording more ready escape for storm-waters, as shown in the following instances:—

A great flood occurred on the 16th of November 1866, causing much local damage at Lower Broughton, Salford, Manchester, and in some other places; such flood would have caused injury both in the borough of Bolton and in the town of Bacup, but for the works of river improvements effected under the Public Works Acts.

All streams and rivers in England are subject to wide variations from dry weather flow up to the full volume of an extreme flood. The dry weather flow from some districts (to use an illogical form of expression) may be described as “a minus quantity.” From other areas it will vary from a quarter to a half cube foot of water per second from each 1,000 acres; and from some of these areas there may be a flood-water flow up to 400 cube feet per second from each 1,000 acres, the streams and rivers during such floods rising vertically up to 25 feet, and flooding large areas of low flat land in the country, and in towns flooding roads, streets, mills, and houses; one such flood causing great local damage to property, and necessarily heavy pecuniary losses. Watercourses flowing through towns should have obstructions removed, and the entire channel regularly formed by side-walls, and the bed paved so as to present a surface which may be scavenged during dry weather, and which floods shall be enabled to cleanse during local rain-storms. Arching streams over within a manufacturing town-area is not always advisable, for several reasons. A long river tunnel would confine and concentrate vapours which are constantly being dissipated if the stream is open, and however disagreeable the evaporating waterway may be, unceasing dilution over the entire area exposed prevents such injury as would take place by enforced concentration within a covered channel. The rivers flowing through Blackburn and Bolton have new side-walls and paved beds. In Bolton there is a dry weather channel, towards which the sides slope, and this is probably the best form for such class of river improvement. A prohibition against casting in of solids, an intercepting of sewage, and, as far as may be consistent with trade requirements, removing river obstructions, straightening, deepening, walling the sides and pitching, that is, paving the beds, through towns, will improve the streams and rivers throughout Lancashire for all purposes; but so long as the present population and trade exist and work continues, absolute purity in streams used for manufacturing purposes cannot be obtained, but there may be great improvement, resulting in benefit to most parties. Some riparian owners must suffer; but, as a rule, there will be benefit in some other form, even to riparian landowners.

Evidence of the stimulus which has been given to the execution of works of sanitary improvement is afforded by observing the progress of such works under the new powers of the Public Works Acts, the rapid progress being indicated by the large number of streets improved; as, for instance:—In the borough of Oldham, during the year 1865, not less than 38 private streets, most of which up to this time had been impassable to wheeled vehicles in wet weather, were sewered, paved, flagged, adopted and declared highways; in Ashton-under-Lyne 13,004 lineal yards of such street works have been satisfactorily executed; in Blackburn 21,526 lineal yards; in Bolton 46,123 lineal yards; in Burnley 5,887 lineal yards; in Oldham 25,320 lineal yards; in Preston 29,119 lineal yards (paving only), the sewerage having been previously executed in Preston.

Table V. contains a statement completed up to the 31st of March 1868, showing the sums repaid on each separate loan in reduction of principal moneys advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners. The amount repaid to that date is 134,280*l.* 13*s.* 10*d.* These repayments are of course being continued.

Table VI. contains a list of the prices of materials and labour at all the places in which works have been executed under the provisions of these Acts.

It may be necessary in this final report to recapitulate some of the views entertained by Mr. Villiers as to how this experiment of affording Government aid to the distressed cotton district could be carried out so as to improve the sanitary condition of the district; and, for the time, tend directly and indirectly to relieve local distress.

The idea of extracting labour in return for relief, in some form or other, is as old as our poor laws; enforced labour is probably as old as civilization. It certainly is as old as the Jewish nation, and we find that captivity (slavery) was practised by the nations of antiquity.

National Public Works have been established in modern times for several purposes, as to find employment for workmen in times of great stagnation of trade and local distress; or to carry out public works, such as new roads, and various forms of earth-works.

The improvement of the sanitary condition of towns (suffering for the time under stagnation of trade) by the voluntary labour of the distressed men, at "work for wages," is in some degree new, though not altogether so, as local improvements have been carried out in different towns in England by labourers temporarily distressed, during some stagnation of local trade, but the work in such cases was not paid for by "measure and value," but at so much per day; being a modified sort of task-work.

In these instances local subscriptions furnished the funds, and the work has usually been such as any ordinary day labourer could perform by spade and barrow. On these Lancashire Public Works, however, the tables show that varieties of works, some of which required, at their commencement, a combination of skilled and of unskilled labour, were successfully commenced, and were carried out to completion, without depreciating any interest involved in the transaction.

It is in the fact that many of the cotton operatives in Lancashire so soon became skilled labourers that these works differ from those which were undertaken by distressed men at former times and in other places.

The idea of finding employment for the distressed cotton operatives in Lancashire had, during the winter of 1862 and the spring of 1863, been thrown out both in the locality, and by letters in "The Times." A Royal Commission to inquire into the question had also been partially formed, when Government considered it necessary to take more immediate action.

On the 29th April 1863, at the instance of the Right Honourable Charles Pelham Villiers, M.P., President of the Poor Law Board, I received special instructions from the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., M.P., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, to proceed forthwith to the distressed cotton manufacturing district, and there to communicate with the several local authorities, and then at once to proceed to inspect the towns and their suburbs so as to ascertain facts as to the state of main sewerage and as to the existing condition of the street surfaces; to inspect the parish and township roads and also the condition of the lands adjoining; to ascertain if public parks were required, and, generally, to learn to what extent works of a sanitary character might be undertaken, upon which a per-centage of unskilled labour could at once be employed with advantage to the owners of property and the ratepayers in the distressed district.

The works were to be of public utility, as—

1. Town sewerage and house draining.
2. Storage reservoirs for water supply.
3. Improving streets and roads.
4. Forming public parks, recreation grounds, or public cemeteries, &c.
5. Forming public markets.
6. Land drainage and improving waste lands.
7. River improvements, &c.

On

On the 1st May 1863 I left London for Manchester, and on the following day, in company with H. B. Farnall, Esq. C.B., Special Commissioner from the Poor Law Board, visited Stockport, and on the 3rd, Blackburn. Mr. Farnall and myself subsequently visited all the local authorities in company, until the passing of the "Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act," and the commencement of the works at the several places.

I reported as to the result of my preliminary inquiries and inspections to the President of the Poor Law Board on the 4th, 6th, and on the 8th of May 1863, and on the 30th; again on the 12th June, and subsequently, at intervals, as the works proceeded. In September 1863 the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act had received the Royal Assent and upwards of 80 places had voluntarily adopted its provisions, and sanctions to loans under it had been given to the extent of 577,609 l.*

Objections were taken in Lancashire to the proposed scheme of employing the distressed men on works, "because a time of local distress was not favourable to commencing works by unskilled men to be paid for out of local rates; because it was considered by many of the large manufacturers, that their unoccupied men could not, with any advantage, execute such works, and that those who did work with pick, spade, and barrow, would have their hands and fingers ruined and their constitutions broken down under exposure; that necessarily a large proportion of the money required would have to be paid to skilled labourers other than distressed cotton operatives, and also that other large sums of money would have to be expended on 'plant' and materials."

The reply was, the able-bodied men out of work must either be maintained out of the poor's rates or by charity, or by rates and charity combined, and that a continuance of such relief would utterly demoralize the men.

I asserted that I knew by former experience that the best of the distressed cotton operatives both could and would soon learn to do a fair day's work for a reasonable day's wages, if paid in money and at short intervals.

Dividing the distressed men into small gangs, and assorting them as much as possible to assist skilled men, I stated, would alone answer.

An estimate, made out in detail, showed me that a sum of 1,500,000 l. might be apportioned and expended as under:—For materials and land, 798,645 l.; for plant, tools, and superintendence, 94,109 l.; for skilled labour, 175,490 l.; for unskilled labour, 431,756 l.; or little more than one-fourth the whole sum appropriated by Parliament could be directly paid to the distressed men.

It was explained that these figures must be accepted if works of necessity and true utility were alone to be undertaken; but that in the cost of materials, skilled labour, plant, and superintendence, at the least two-thirds of the entire sum estimated for these contingencies would add relief by its expenditure in the distressed district, and would also employ much local labour in stone-quarries, brick-yards and in other ways. The sum of 431,756 l., it was explained, would pay 12,984 men 2 s. 4 d. per day for one year, each man working 285 days, and consequently earning at a rate of 33 l. 15 s. during such year.

The distressed men employed had been overlookers, weavers, spinners, card-room-hands, warpers, piecers, twistors, sizers, dyers and bleachers, fustian-cutters, roller-coverers, hatters, and various other trades; the weekly wages earned, either by day's wages or by measure and value, varying from 12 s. up to 20 s. per man. As a rule, each man, so employed, represented a wife and three children, or five in family.

The tables show that about 400 miles of streets in Lancashire towns, and some other distressed towns in adjoining counties, have been sewered, and that nearly 800 acres of street area have been formed, flagged, channelled and paved. The main sewers have been constructed on the most approved modern principles. Brick sewers are egg-shaped on cross section, having numerous side entrances and manholes, with moveable covers at the surface, and means for permanent ventilation (through charcoal) where considered necessary. The footwalks are kerbed and flagged; the side channels have small cast-iron gullies at short intervals, and the streets are, for the most part, paved with square sets.

The

* It will be seen that the final passing of the Act had been anticipated; this had been done by the unanimous consent of the several authorities interested, and enabled the summer to be saved.

The improved streets of Lancashire, if connected end to end, would form a roadway 400 miles in length, with paved surface, flagged side-walks, side-channels, and sub-soil drainage such as no highway ever had; and the sewers in these streets have been formed as part of a general system in each district and specially adapted for house drainage.

The increase of population in England and Wales during the century has been very great, as is shown in the tables extracted from the Census returns. The tendency of modern civilisation is to mass manufacturing populations in towns which are situate upon, or in proximity to, water and coals; and the cotton trade in Lancashire and the worsted and woollen trades in the West Riding of Yorkshire are instances of it.

The rapid increase in the county, and especially in manufacturing town populations, caused a spread of new streets and houses over their suburbs, and frequently into adjoining districts. The older towns, as Manchester, Wigan, Bolton, Preston, and in some other towns, there were improvement commissioners, but many new large towns had grown up from mere parish or township-villages since the commencement of the century, having no adequate form of local government. The Public Health Act, 1848, and Local Government Act, 1858, enabled these new places to establish local government, but most of the older towns, as well as many of the new towns, had declined to adopt these Acts under a mistaken dread of centralization; and as municipal governing powers or town commissioners' Acts of Parliament seldom extended local jurisdiction beyond the ancient boundaries, and the surrounding townships or parishes did not possess either municipal governing powers, or commissioners' special Acts of Parliament, the new roads and streets laid out by private persons could could not legally be dealt with for purposes of main-sewering, street-forming, and paving; hence the wretched condition of so many miles of streets at the commencement of the cotton famine, and before these improvement works were executed. This state of neglect was not, however, peculiar to Lancashire. It was, and even now is, common to other manufacturing districts and trading towns in England and Wales, as Newcastle-upon-Tyne, Sheffield, Leeds, Bradford, Birmingham, Cardiff, and the metropolis. In the suburbs of London there are at this time many miles of new streets unformed, and upon the improvement of which hundreds of unskilled labourers might (as in Lancashire) have profitable employment found at "work for wages."

The Public Health Act, 1848, provided for local consolidation, wherever this Act was adopted; as also for compulsory sewerage, forming and paving of new streets, under certain defined notices and regulations; but this Act required to be adopted; and, as previously stated, most of the town authorities in Lancashire steadily declined to take this course, because, as they asserted, the Act would bring them under centralization. My first duty on visiting Lancashire was, therefore, to wait upon the several local authorities and explain the mode of working under the Local Government Act, 1858 (which had incorporated and superseded the Public Health Act, 1848), and to advise Mr. Villiers as to the progress made.

Lancaster, Preston, and Wigan having adopted the Public Health Act, 1848, and having worked under its powers, these local authorities were appealed to as to their experience, and the replies being satisfactory, there was in most places an assent to adopt the Act if Government would aid the execution of works by a loan of money at a low rate of interest.

On carefully examining the several clauses of the Local Government Act, 1858, it became evident that even this Act required serious alterations and additions to adapt it to the exceptional circumstances which had arisen.

The Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act, 1863, embodies these alterations and amendments. In this Act new powers are granted, enabling public bodies, municipal corporations, town commissioners, and parish guardians, as also private individuals, to devise works of a beneficial character, and to borrow money from Government, at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., for their execution.

Each local authority arranged as to the work proposed to be executed, and their local surveyors prepared plans, sections, estimates, and details, as also superintended the execution of the works to their completion.

So soon as it was generally known that I had been sent to the distressed cotton district to report as to works, I received many suggestions as to public works. The writers thought Government might undertake such works as embanking out the sea at Morecombe Bay; draining and cultivating Chat Moss; forming a ship canal from Manchester to Liverpool, &c. My reply was that Government would not, in any case, devise public works; and as this power and responsibility would be left in the hands of the local authorities, all such schemes for employing the distressed labourers should be laid before the local authorities. There were also numerous applications for appointments, to which I gave a similar answer, namely, that the local authorities would alone devise works and employ labour, and therefore to these bodies all applications for situations should be made.

Government did not, in a single instance, attempt to do more than render pecuniary assistance, and this was only upon full security. In estimates which I prepared, it was shown that a large proportion of any money advanced would have to be expended on materials and on skilled labour; but as this was inevitable, if works of practical utility alone were undertaken, such works were sanctioned. It is of the utmost importance that this feature of the Lancashire public works should be rightly understood, as many advantages arose from these special conditions. The works were in or near the towns, and, consequently, near the houses of the distressed men; and, as more or less of skilled labour was required, the unskilled men were divided and subdivided in the most effective manner. Street-forming required an amount of spade-work to remove the surplus material, and this work unskilled men could at once perform. Trenching for sewers required the combined action of skilled men to open and timber the trenches, but unskilled men could bring materials to the site and remove surplus earth; and so with other forms of work undertaken. At first the pick, the shovel, and the barrow galled the hands of men only accustomed to handling cotton thread ; but the encouragement of the local authorities and local relief committees in continuing a subsidy to each man going to work for a space of six weeks, and the discriminating assistance of the central relief committee (with the Earl of Derby at its head) in granting suitable clothing to several thousand men, and waterproof boots to those who were required to work in wet ground, encouraged the men to persevere ; and in a short time their hands hardened, whilst fresh air and exercise brought them into condition, enabling them to feel at ease instead of suffering stiffness and pain. Many of the men, in three months' time, increased in strength, and became comparatively skilled workmen, capable of executing sewer-trenching and other forms of earthwork requiring both skill and care.

The aim of Mr. Villiers in recommending advances of public money for the employment of able-bodied men out of work, was so to arrange the central administration that the local authorities should not be divested of their responsibility. The work offered to the men was not, however, to be "test" or "task-work"; but work for wages, at prices fixed beforehand with the men, so that the payment made to each man, or to each gang of men, depended upon the actual measured amount of work done each day, week, or month, as the case might be.

Some of the local relief committees established co-operative shops, which were managed gratuitously; where the men could obtain food, such as bread, bacon, potatoes, &c., at wholesale prices.

The chief features to be considered in this experiment may again be reiterated.

Government provided legal machinery as simple and as effective as experience up to that time had indicated to be practicable.

Parliament set apart a sum of money (1,850,000 £., at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., repayable in 30 years) to be advanced, upon compliance with stipulated conditions, by instalments as the works proceeded.

Each local authority was authorised to devise works upon which to employ the able-bodied distressed labour of the district, and to superintend the same.

Plans and estimates required to be first approved by the Poor Law Board, before the proposed loan could be sanctioned, and then the money was advanced, upon the Poor Law Board's order, after inspection. This regulation was for the purpose of seeing that the works authorised were being proceeded with properly.

Reports were made, by myself, in each case to the Poor Law Board, on fresh applications from the local authorities for additional instalments of money; and "Orders" were issued by the Poor Law Board for such additional instalments, unless further information was required.

A public works office was temporarily established in Manchester, and one assistant inspector (Mr. R. A. Arnold) and one office clerk (Mr. Henry Mills) appointed.

The local inspections involved an examination of works executed, or in course of execution, and of the accounts of monies expended.

Plans of proposed works were in some cases rejected (such as, for instance, in the case of a new town-hall in Bolton), and in many cases plans of main sewers and of waterworks were modified; but in no instance so as to remove the responsibility of their proper execution from the local authorities.

Up to this time, I am not aware of any failure in any of the works undertaken.

Sewering, forming, and paving the 400 miles of streets have facilitated local traffic to an extent it is not possible to detail in this Report. There were many miles of streets and roads in such bad condition, that carriers and railway authorities had given notice to the manufacturers that they could not continue to fetch or deliver goods over them, as carts and waggons broke down and stuck fast in the mud so frequently.

The outlay of money has not only improved the streets and roads, but has added at least its full value to house and mill property. In many of the towns, works commenced under the Public Works (Manufacturing Districts) Act have been continued and extended under the powers of the Local Government Act.

Some towns which declined to proceed under the Public Works Acts, seeing the the advantages springing from these works as executed, have recently adopted the Local Government Act, and are now proceeding with works under this Act, as at Todmorden.

Lancashire, from being backward in sanitary improvements, is at this time probably the most advanced county in England, in town-sewering, street-paving, public parks, waterworks, and road-improvements. Partial river improvements have been effected, as previously stated, at Blackburn, Bolton, and at Bacup; but to deal effectively with river pollutions and river improvement there must be legal power to deal with streams and rivers and entire river areas both by combination and in detail.

A Conservancy Board, having jurisdiction over entire river areas, will alone be enabled to deal with the numerous forms of abuse of rivers and streams which now exist in manufacturing districts, but so long as there is dense population and great trade, there will be river pollution in some form; it need not, however, exist in the gross form which it now presents; much of the abuse of rivers and evils of pollution may be prevented, to the pecuniary advantage of manufacturers and to the sanitary advantage of the inhabitants.

In concluding this Report I beg to be allowed to suggest that this great and successful experiment in Lancashire by Mr. Villiers, to relieve the vast and at the time appalling distress, should be considered in all its specialities and details, if it is to be taken as a precedent. Similar works to those undertaken and executed in Lancashire by the aid of a Government loan, at a low rate of interest, may no doubt be devised for other places. The metropolis and many large towns may find work in street and road improvement, which, if properly carried out, shall be advantageous to the district and directly and indirectly relieve the poor's rate.

In all such cases, however, local distress must be relieved upon or through local works, and solely upon the responsibility of the local authorities, Government simply offering the necessary legal powers and pecuniary aid, on good security, as in Lancashire. There are many miles of new streets and roads unsewered and unformed in the suburbs of the great towns of England and Wales; which, if improved, as in Lancashire, would afford work to able-bodied men, and benefit the several localities. The work must, however, in all cases, be for wages; and those who labour must do so voluntarily, under the encouragement of the proper local authority where distressed labourers have temporarily become paupers through stagnation in trade. Many parishes and towns in Great Britain may be enabled to find useful work for able-bodied men out of employment within or near such parish or town; and, if such men can be offered work for wages, the result must be a saving to the parish, directly and indirectly, in the poor's rates; but I do not see how Government is to provide special work exclusively for paupers and criminals, either separately as paupers and as criminals, or combined, on any principles analogous to those devised and acted upon in Lancashire, as many paupers are constitutionally unable to take their place and maintain it in the regular ranks of labour, because they suffer under some bodily ailment aggravated by a previous wretched mode of life.

If Government, in this cotton famine case, had superseded local authority or had insisted in making it entirely subservient to official control, and had dictated indiscriminate employment of all classes of men for the time on the rates, either no works would have been undertaken on local responsibilities, or there would, as in all previous cases of Government establishment of public works, have been inevitable loss of much of the money advanced. Mr. Villiers appreciated these difficulties from the commencement, and avoided them.

I beg to repeat again, that men whose previous occupation had been in-door, and of many separate trades or occupations, did learn forms of out-of-door labour very rapidly, but this was principally because there was subdivision, and the distressed men received proper encouragement, and, above all, technical example. If gangs of distressed cotton operatives had merely been offered warm clothing, implements, and labour, to work in large gangs, the experiment would, in my opinion, have failed, as blunderers and grumblers would have leavened such gangs, both by example and by precept; the incompetent and the idle would have constituted themselves the leaders. Large gangs of men of any occupation, if exceptionally massed together for any purpose, are liable to become riotous; as, for instance, large gangs of labourers on railway or on dock works, or indeed on any other heavy earth-work. And if either paupers or criminals are massed on any occasion for purposes of enforced labour, there will be great temptation to insubordination, and, if opportunity is allowed, actual rioting.

Government has, from time to time, advanced money at a low rate of interest (from $3\frac{1}{4}$ per cent. up to 5 per cent.) for various purposes :—to encourage fisheries ; to establish harbours ; to form roads ; to drain lands ; to make the Caledonian Canal ; to improve rivers ; to carry out arterial drainage ; to relieve the distress in the terrible Irish famine, 1846–7–8, &c. In many of these cases there was direct Government action and responsibility, resulting in money loss.

If no Government aid had been given to Lancashire during the recent cotton famine, the towns would most probably for a long time have remained unimproved, and the poor's rates would have been largely increased. One form of relief to the local rates these works afforded on a large scale, which had not been anticipated, namely, the removal of numbers of idle men from the local relief lists by the offer of work for wages, upon which many willing men were actually earning good wages. These malingering men, who would have received the dole of 3 s. or 4 s. per week to live in idleness to the end of the distress, would not face work in any form, however liberal the rate of pay. They were consequently at once removed from the relief lists by the simple offer of real work, and must have found some other means of living in idleness, either in Lancashire or by tramping through the country.

Defective sanitary arrangements, such as unsewered and unpaved streets in towns, are known to produce disease and premature deaths in excess.

An increasing of permanent pauperism is also the usual result of any epidemic disease, such as fever or cholera, aggravated by defective sanitary arrangements.

The public works in the Lancashire towns have benefited trade, by giving 400 miles of good roads for tracts of mud ; they have further added to local means of health and pleasure, by providing public parks and recreation grounds, which otherwise might not have been formed ; and they have also increased the rental-value of house-property by sewerage, draining, and so removing nuisances from the vicinity of dwelling-houses, which nuisances, if allowed to remain, would have been liable to have injured human health.

I have, &c.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

THE statistics of this Paper were obtained by summarising the data for each Union or part of Union as given in the Parliamentary Return, No. 114, Session 1868. This document generally represents the facts as they existed in 1867, but since that date a few changes in the Unions have taken place, more especially in the Metropolis.

The summary by Union, or Registration Counties, is a reprint of part of No. 114—I., Session 1868; the summary by Counties-proper is a recapitulation of the additions given in the body of this Return; there is a very slight discrepancy between the grand totals of these two summaries, but every care has been taken to secure accuracy in the last-named account. It is believed that a number of extra-parochial places have been included in the first-named summary that were designedly excluded from the County-proper Summary.

The “Whole Unions” have their constituent parishes lying completely within the County-proper under which they are placed in the following pages; the “Divided Unions” have some of their parishes situate within the limits of one or more contiguous shires; and the “Foreign Unions” are those which having their principal part in neighbouring Counties contribute however a few parishes to the County-proper under which they are here classed.

15 April 1869.

Chief Constable's Office, Carlisle,
14 April 1869.

Sir,

As I have received applications from the Chairmen of Quarter Sessions of several counties, for the particulars of the plan carried out in Cumberland and Westmoreland in reference to tramping vagrants, and as the subject was discussed in Lancashire, Dorsetshire, and various other counties, at the Quarter Sessions last week, I have the honour to enclose, for your information, a copy of the particulars furnished by me to Mr. Cross, the Chairman of the Lancashire Sessions, and the chairmen of other counties.

I have, &c.

Secretary of State, Home Department.

TRAMPS AND VAGRANTS IN CUMBERLAND AND WESTMORLAND.

IN consequence of the frequent and general complaints of the inhabitants as to the depredations and numerous robberies committed by those persons, the subject has been brought before the two last Quarter Sessions.

The following is extracted from the report of the Police Committee of Westmorland, to the Michaelmas Sessions, 1867:—

“Your Committee consider it necessary to specially draw the attention of the Court to the great public evils that arise from the habitual depredations committed by tramps and vagrants. A large majority of the crimes in the county are committed by such persons. The daily average number in Westmorland was this year 35, showing an increase of 10 as compared with last year; and your Committee are of opinion that it would be greatly conducive to the public interests if the laws in regard to those persons were in every case most strictly administered.

The following is from the Report of the Police Committee of Cumberland, to the Epiphany Sessions 1868, and the discussion thereon:—

“Your Committee consider it right to draw the special attention of the Court to the 158. great great public evils that arise from the frequent depredations committed by tramps and vagrants, a large majority of the crimes in the county being traceable to such persons. The daily average number in Cumberland during the past year was 134, and your Committee are of opinion that it would be greatly conducive to the public interest if the laws in regard to those persons were more strictly administered.

WARNING TO TRAMPS.

Mr. Spedding urged upon his brother justices the desirability of dealing more strenuously with tramps. The magistrates might do a good deal of good by a more strict enforcement of the laws respecting tramps. If they could suppress tramps they would suppress almost all petty larcenies. The police had been very active in taking up tramps, but the committals by the magistrates had been in a great many instances only for one week, and the governor of the gaol said he had just time to get them washed and send them out again. He believed the magistrates would be doing the tramps no wrong, and doing the public a great deal of good, in putting the law in force for the prevention of these small offences. If throughout England the magistrates would act upon the same principle, they would almost suppress vagrancy, and clear their criminal calendars. This was not mere theory; they had experience to go upon. During the cattle plague the police took upon them to act rather despotically with regard to tramps, and the consequence was that the calendars were reduced below the average. To-day they had only eight prisoners in the calendar against the average of about 20 of former calendars at the same time of year. That was owing, he believed, in a great measure, to the extra attention paid to tramps during the last quarter; and if the magistrates would apply the Act very strictly in their respective petty sessions, the result would be very satisfactory.

Mr. Graham. At the time of the cattle plague, what were the convictions?

Mr. Spedding. They were kept out altogether. Mr. Dunne informs me that the police told them either they must stop or must go and be disinfected. The result was that they turned back.

The following is from the police committee of Westmorland to the Epiphany Sessions, 1868, and the discussion thereon:

"Your Committee again venture to call the attention of the court to the great number of tramps that are constantly travelling about the county; and in cases brought before the magistrates, your Committee most strongly recommend, for the reasons previously given, that the law should be strictly and fully carried out.

CAUTION TO TRAMPS.

The Chairman drew attention to the paragraph in the Police Committee's report with respect to tramps, and urged upon the magistrates in petty sessions the great necessity of strictly administering the laws in regard to those persons, for in that case he had no doubt that the result would be the decrease of crime in the two counties. When the cattle plague prevailed tramps were well watched by the police, and dealt with severely by the magistrates; the consequence was, that during that period they had almost disappeared, and there was a most remarkable corresponding decrease of crime. He thought if the gravity of the question were well considered, the advantages of strictly enforcing the laws must be clear, and he was confident that great good would be conferred upon the public if the recommendations of the Committee were acted upon.

Mr. Crackanthorpe observed that the magistrates acting on his bench were most particular in having the laws regarding tramps strictly administered.

In reply to questions from several magistrates,

The Chief Constable said that he had issued special and strict instructions to the police to be most vigilant and energetic in enforcing the Vagrant Act in regard to tramps, and he could state that generally they had carried out that duty most efficiently. They would continue to do so, and if the magistrates would support them he had no doubt that eventually the evils so much complained of by all classes of the inhabitants would be effectually suppressed. He thought that if the kind-hearted and benevolent people who relieved tramps and vagrants generally would, instead of doing so, refer tramps and vagrants vagrants to the nearest resident police officer, those who deserved relief would be certain to receive it, and a great discouragement would be given to the pernicious system of tramping.

In answer to a question from the Chairman,

The Chief Constable stated that he had no doubt that 99 out of every 100 tramps were professional mendicants, and a large proportion of them were convicted thieves, and lived by an organised plan of plunder. Nearly all the serious crimes, such as burglaries, highway robberies, and many of the petty larcenies, in these counties had during the last eleven years been committed by tramps. A very large proportion of the prisoners in the gaols were tramps, and he was satisfied from experience that if the present system of allowing professional tramps to be continually travelling about the country could be put a stop to, the great bulk of serious crimes tried at the Sessions and Assizes would be prevented, and immense good would be conferred upon the general community.

In answer to inquiries as to when the proposed passports for tramps would come into operation, the Chief Constable explained that Mr. Cropper, who had the plan in hand, and who had taken a great deal of trouble about it, was anxious to have all the preliminary arrangements fully completed before it was adopted.

Carlisle, 7th January 1868.

EXTRACT from the REPORT of the Chief Constable of the Counties of Cumberland and Westmorland to the Michaelmas Quarter Sessions, 1868.

THE daily average number of vagrants and tramps was, in Cumberland, 122; last year 134; decrease 12. In Westmorland 28; last year 35; decrease 7. These figures therefore show that during the year, as compared with last year, there was in Cumberland a decrease of 4,380; in Westmorland a decrease of 2,555, making in the two counties a total decrease of 6,935. It will no doubt be remembered that the Police Committee brought the subject of tramps and vagrants before the last Michaelmas and Epiphany Sessions, and that after the question was discussed it was unanimously recommended that the law in regard to such persons should be strictly carried out. The police have been energetic and vigilant in enforcing the decision come to by the Court, and during the year the number of vagrants and tramps apprehended for offences against the Vagrant Act was, in Cumberland, 325; of whom 219 were committed to prison and 106 discharged. In Westmorland 199 were apprehended: 155 were committed to prison, and 44 discharged. Total apprehended 524: committed to prison 374; discharged 150. Increase of 312 apprehended; increase of 211 committed to prison. With this remarkable decrease of vagrancy there has been a corresponding decrease of offences against the law, and judging from the various reports made to me by the police and the inhabitants generally, I am enabled to state that the course adopted by the magistrates has been attended with the most beneficial results in checking professional mendicancy and preventing crime.

Chief Constable's Office, Carlisle,
6 February 1869.

Dear Sir,

In reply to your communication, dated the 4th instant, I have much pleasure in giving answers to the subjoined questions, which I have compiled from your last and former letters. I may add that I shall be very happy to give you any further information in my power in reply to any other questions you may wish to ask in reference to the subject in question.

1. How many tramping vagrants were apprehended by the police in the counties of Cumberland and Westmorland during the year ending on the 29th September 1868 for offences in contravention of the Act 5 Geo. 4, c. 83?

524 were apprehended; of whom 574 were committed to prison for periods ranging from seven days to three months, with hard labour; and 150 were discharged.

2. What offences were they charged with?

With few exceptions, they were charged with begging from house to house, in contravention of the Act 5 George 4, c. 83.

3. How were they caught?

The police have strict orders to use their utmost exertions to discover and apprehend this class of persons who commit offences against the law. While they are on duty they they make special inquiries about the tramping vagrants who may have been begging in the locality of their beats. The police then endeavour to head them on the road by taking some cross-way or footpath. They then go into the next house, and in the course of a very short time the tramps call to beg. In many instances when refused alms they become abusive and threatening. Then the policeman stepped out, and took them into custody. In some cases the tramps were apprehended from the description given to the police, and they were afterwards identified before the magistrates. It is the duty of the police to discover crime generally; and I must say that a constable of ordinary intelligence and efficiency, who desires to do his duty with zeal and energy, cannot encounter any insuperable difficulties in tracing out and apprehending tramping vagrants who can be proved to have committed any offence against the law.

4. Do the police apprehend persons seen travelling along the roads simply because they are shabbily dressed, having the appearance of tramping vagrants, and looking like what are called suspicious characters?

The police do not apprehend such persons on mere suspicion of begging. When they receive information of persons begging, and there can be no doubt that the persons pursued are those that have done so, the police take them to the house where they begged, and when they are identified they are conveyed to the lock-up, or before the nearest magistrate. It has often occurred that, upon searching suspicious-looking tramping vagrants, property has been found in their possession; and, failing to give any satisfactory account of how they became possessed of it, they were apprehended on the charge of having stolen it; and on subsequent inquiry it was traced to be the proceeds of either burglary or petty larceny.

5. Are you aware of groups of tramping vagrants confining themselves to travelling through a radius of from four to six or twelve adjoining counties?

No; I think they travel indiscriminately from one county to another, and in the course of time spread all over the country. By far the largest proportion of tramping vagrants are Irish.

6. How do you define tramps from vagrants?

I class all persons who are found travelling about the country without any visible means of subsistence or employment, who sleep in the low lodging-houses, or the casual wards attached to the workhouses, and beg from house to house and village to village, as tramping vagrants.

7. In what way do you take the census of the persons you describe as tramping vagrants?

All low lodging-houses are frequently visited; the vagrants found in the casual wards at the workhouses are also included; and a simultaneous census is taken on a fixed day and at a fixed hour. Great care is observed that the same persons are not included in more than one return while they remain in any part of the two counties. In this way we obtain a correct and trustworthy census.

8. In what way do tramping vagrants obtain a livelihood?

So far as I know, they live by a well-matured plan of professional mendicancy, or an organised system of robbery.

9. Has any good resulted in Cumberland and Westmorland from the plan carried out in those counties in regard to tramping vagrants?

Previously to 1868, there was generally an increase in tramping vagrants, but during the year ending on the 29th September last there was a decrease of 6,935 in the two counties; while various petty larcenies, burglaries, and other crimes, decrease in a most

most remarkable proportion; and I feel quite persuaded, from the practical experience we have had in these counties, that if the law were generally and uniformly carried out, tramping vagrancy, as a trade, would be very soon successfully put a stop to, while the various crimes generally committed by tramps would be prevented, and immense good would be conferred upon the community at large.

10. To what do you attribute so large a decrease in tramping vagrants during last year?

Entirely to the strict administration of the Act 5 Geo. 4, c. 83.

11. Do the police act as assistant relieving officers, for the purpose of relieving tramping vagrants in Cumberland and Westmorland?

Yes.

12. Has the ticket-of-way plan been adopted, or in any way acted upon, in Cumberland and Westmorland?

No.

13. How do the police act in reference to poor people who may be driven by necessity to travel from one place to another in search of work, and who may have no other means to get a morsel to eat except by begging along the routes they may be travelling by?

No complaint of this nature has been made that such persons have been apprehended by the police of these counties. The condition of the hands will, as a rule, enable the police to judge between the working man and the professional tramp. I have always thought that this difficulty might be very easily met if some general and uniform rule could be established, requiring persons compelled by necessity to travel in search of work, or for other legitimate purposes, to procure a certificate from the head of the police of the starting-place, setting forth the particulars and route to destination, and that such certificate should be protection against being apprehended by the police, while it should guarantee certain relief at appointed places along the route.

RETURN to an Address of the Honourable The House of Commons, dated 12 May 1869;—for,

“ COPY of the MEMORIAL addressed by the Court of Quarter Sessions of the County of Surrey to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, on the Subject of the Increase of VAGRANCY.”

MEMORIAL to the Right Honourable Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, on the subject of VAGRANCY and RELIEF of the CASUAL POOR, from the Justices of the Peace for the County of Surrey.—January 1869.

To the Right Honourable Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

The Memorial of Her Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the County of Surrey, at the Epiphany General Quarter Session 1869, assembled :

Showeth as follows :

THAT in no country in Europe has the same provision been made for its support, and consequently nowhere is there the same amount of vagrancy. In France the vagrant is not entitled to relief, but is liable to punishment ; in Germany, in like manner, he is subject to arrest and imprisonment ; in Belgium any person found begging is taken up and placed in a depôt de la mendicité, until it is found out to what place he belongs, where he must be set to work, as was formerly the case in England.

The amount of vagrancy here has been called into existence by the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1834. Attention was early directed to the question by the decisions of the Poor Law Commissioners. The unanimous resolution of the Committee of the House of Commons in 1846, stated that vagrancy had greatly increased since the publication of the circulars of the Poor Law Commissioners in 1837–38–39, declaring that applicants should be admitted to workhouses at all hours, previous to inquiry, and that officers refusing them should be dismissed. So early as 1842, when knowledge of this mistaken system was circulated among the tramps, the reliefs in a union (St. Saviour's) in this county, mounted at once from 549 cases to an average of 2,883 cases per week, aggregating in five weeks 14,416 cases. Thus the Poor Law Board knew the existence of the mischief upwards of 25 years ago, nor was task-work, though a temporary check, a permanent or successful remedy.

The evidence given before the Committee of the House of Commons in 1846 tended to disseminate widely the information to tramps and vagrants that they were entitled to support from public charity wherever they sought it.

The great increase of vagrancy induced the then able President of the Poor Law Board, Mr. C. Buller, to issue a circular in 1848, stating “ It is impossible to come to any other conclusion than that the system which of late years has been adopted in relief of ‘casual’ poor has been the principal cause of the extension of vagrancy ” ; urging the most searching inquiry to discriminate between the destitute pauper and the professional tramp, and the strongest endeavours to repress the “ insolence and turbulence ” of the worthless.

During 20 years the recommendations contained in the circular of 1848 have been extensively put in practice, and nevertheless vagrancy has continued steadily to increase, thereby showing that those regulations were insufficient. That this has been the case appears from the fact, that the 11,000 vagrants who were travelling the country in 1848 amounted to 22,559 in 1858, and exceeded 33,000 in 1866.

It is possible that very many concurrent causes may have contributed to bring about this disastrous and most pernicious condition of the travelling poor.

But if the abolition of transportation and free circulation of criminals for years, and under a limited check their present admixture with the destitute; if the discharge of masses of workmen when markets are glutted; if strikes and the consequent transfer of industry to foreign countries; if the improvidence and intemperance following high and uncertain wages; if these and the too frequently demoralising rather than elevating effects of so-called village benefit clubs, have tended to increase the number of vagrants, it can be no matter of surprise, when, in conjunction with the above circumstances, we consider the interpretation put on the laws for the relief of the poor, and that the stringent and severe enactments against vagrancy are relaxed or abandoned; thus the idle, the vicious, and the criminal, who roam from place to place, are released from restraint, to the detriment and disparagement of the honest and industrious who remain at home.

If the minute of Mr. Charles Buller, of 1848, checked for a while the effect of the circulars of 1837-38-39, and the decisions in 1842, encouraging the vagrant, the minute of 23rd December 1863, signed C. P. Villiers, on "Destitute Houseless Poor," did much to reinstate this vicious class. At the same time, while it affected to "point out the requirements of the existing law, and the best means of discharging the obligations which it imposes," it left guardians and their officers as much in the dark as before, as to the performance of their duty in restraining vagrancy without infringement of the law.

It stated that "every master or matron of a workhouse was required to admit every applicant who might appear to require relief; and that it was the duty of every relieving officer, in every case of sudden and urgent necessity, to relieve every destitute applicant" "without reference to the time of application, or to the place where the pauper had last slept"; thus showing that every one was entitled to relief by merely asking for it. The effect of this was so obvious, that it was hardly requisite for the same "minute" to observe in contradiction that "it is unnecessary to remark, that to provide lodging for every applicant indiscriminately in this vast metropolis, would encourage vagrancy and imposture of the worst description, and perpetuate all those evils which were pointed out by the Board, in their minute of the 4th August 1848.

A paper, which apparently emanated from the Poor Law Board about the same time, signed H. F., dated 31st December 1863, forcibly shows the existence of the evils contemplated, and the difficulty of meeting them without change of the law. It states the complaints of boards of guardians, that "the powers they possess to investigate such cases can never be made efficient"; and, moreover, that "even some of the police magistrates were so impressed with the mischief resulting from the present mode of relieving vagrants, that they addressed the Poor Law Commissioners upon the subject; and the magistrates of the police court at Greenwich concluded their letter as follows: 'The evil has got to such a head, and the frauds practised by vagrants in the parishes become so serious, that we hope no apology is necessary for our submitting these points to your consideration.'"

In proof of the above, the guardians of St. Mary, Newington, wrote to the Commissioners as follows: "That tramping vagrancy is seriously on the increase amongst a class of persons who, from recent instructions; allowing all to have a claim to food and lodging at any hour of the night, find it most suitable to their idle habits to stroll about during the day, watching opportunities for mischief, and seeking, or rather demanding, a lodging for the night; repeating day by day their evil ways, but seldom asking shelter in the same workhouse two successive nights."

The Poor Law Board were in 1863 fully acquainted with their true character, as appears from the remark, "That the vagrants and tramps are a special class, holding a kind of position between the respectable destitute poor, and criminal population." Though these observations refer more especially to the metropolis, a large

a large portion of which is comprised in the South London district, within the jurisdiction of magistrates of the county of Surrey, they are equally applicable to the whole kingdom; and, though the Poor Law Board were aware of the evils in 1863, they continue them in 1869.

The circular of 28th November 1868, enjoins the labour test, picking oakum, or breaking stones after breakfast for not over four hours, as a means of arresting vagrancy; whereas this has been so often, so generally, and so unsuccessfully tried, as to prove totally inefficient for the purpose. It is a remarkable fact, that in many unions where the task was rigidly imposed, the number of vagrants has, nevertheless, increased beyond the proportion in workhouses in the same district where no such labour test was enforced. This circumstance was ably stated to the Poor Law Board on the 30th December 1865, in the valuable "Report of Andrew Doyle, Esq., Poor Law Inspector." He says, "Although a labour test is a perfectly efficient means of checking imposture, if you have only to deal with ordinary wayfarers, yet from one cause or other it breaks down when applied to professional tramps. It is true that for a brief period after it is introduced into a union, and while it is still novel, it appears to be successful, but it is soon found that all such means of repression are unavailing against this class," a class which he shows to consist of from 60 to 90 per cent. of able-bodied men, who never work; and he demonstrates it by forcible illustration. He enumerates among the practical impediments, the difficulty of enforcing any labour test; the difficulty in getting magistrates to accede to "wholesale committals" in default; the fact that the tramps "only broke the hammers instead of the stones, and destroyed the oakum that was given them to pick." The committee of magistrates of this county, which reported upon the subject last year, obtained returns from the different unions throughout the county as to vagrants for the three years ending 31st December 1866, whence it appeared that there had been a general increase throughout, the aggregate for the year exceeding 100,000. The numbers in some metropolitan unions, where the task-work now prescribed by the Poor Law Board as a preventive had been enforced, and where the dietary enjoined had been carried out, is very remarkable. In some instances the employment of police had for a while caused a temporary decrease; then the numbers gradually increased; and several unions state that the "encouragement the vagrants generally receive under the Houseless Poor Act has increased, and no doubt will greatly increase vagrancy."

St. Giles, Camberwell, gives the following return, with full dietary and task-work:

Number of vagrants in the years ending 31st December - - -	7,112	7,451	14,100	16,216

No words, other than Mr. Buller's, can describe more forcibly or more truthfully the harm to society, or the cruelty to poverty, by admixture with profligacy: none could foretell more graphically the evils which have occurred.

Mr. Buller wrote, when the Poor Law Amendment Act was young and scarcely tried; and admitting the "mode" he suggested to be "defective," confessed the Board had nothing else to offer to guardians, who must then act on their own responsibility, and urged the stringent enforcement of regulations ere their inadequacy had been tested.

To argue as Mr. Buller did, was (as he seemed aware) to contend against strong probabilities; to persist, as is now urged, is to resist incontrovertible evidence based on acknowledged facts.

Mr. Buller wrote, in "hope of mitigating evils then loudly complained of" in "representations from every part of England and Wales, respecting the continual and rapid increase of vagrancy," which he admitted was due to recent "legislation for the relief of casual poor"; but Mr. Buller did not anticipate that the law would be further altered, not in abatement, but in aggravation of the very evil it had created.

Mr. Buller did not contemplate the minute of Mr. Villiers, or the enactment of 1863, increasing facilities to the imposter, and diminishing control to the authorities. He never imagined a new phase of statutory mendicancy and imposture,

In the winter of 1865-6, the poor law inspectors throughout England stated in their reports the alarming extension of vagrancy, and many recommended the necessity of altering the law. The subject has repeatedly engaged the attention of magistrates and boards of guardians throughout the kingdom, who have, without effect, represented to the Poor Law Board the amount of the mischief, and their inability, under the existing law, to check the evils.

The necessity for an alteration of the law was admitted in debate in the House of Lords last Session.

Notwithstanding these facts, the recent minute of 28th November 1868, signed "H. Fleming," indicates no intention of any fresh attempt to abate the evil created; it ignores the experience of 30 years, it disregards the reports of its own officers, it neglects the statements of inspectors of constabulary, it overlooks the remonstrances of boards of guardians, the representations of police magistrates and justices of the peace, and sets aside the records of Parliament, and reverts to a minute more than 20 years old, whose inefficiency is admitted to cope with an evil much less then than it is at present. This poor law minute of Mr. Fleming desires us to go on some time longer with this unavailing attempt to reconcile that which is irreconcilable, and he will then see if he can bring out of it any more good than the Right honourable Charles Buller in 1848. He offers, indeed, as an alternative, the chance of an experiment which has signally failed in the West of England.

Your memorialists are satisfied that, considering the different views entertained with regard to the right of the mendicant to relief, no effective check will ever be given to vagrancy without an alteration of the law. If the correct enunciation of the existing law be that the able-bodied vagrant who calls himself destitute has at all times a right to relief on asking for it, it is clearly not to a misinterpretation, but to an alteration of the law belongs the true remedy for the inconvenience and evils resulting therefrom.

These considerations, while they show the necessity for a change, at the same time exhibit a wide field for inquiry in legislating on the subject of the travelling destitute poor, and the criminal and vicious classes. They likewise show that the questions are beyond the grasp of the guardians of the poor, whose boards were instituted to manage the paupers settled within the respective unions, and not to support the casual or rather normal vagabonds whose idleness preys upon industry, and whose vicious career is supported by local rates without check, control, care, or cost to themselves.

These considerations present themselves to your memorialists not only in consequence of the vast interests generally inherent in the question, but especially at the present time, inasmuch as they, last year, addressed a memorial to the Government urging the necessity of legislative change, which has remained without consideration.

On these premises your memorialists have arrived at the following conclusions:

1. That the evils resulting from the daily increasing amount of vagrancy, and from the present treatment of the casual poor, are very great, and universally acknowledged.
2. That your memorialists a year ago addressed the Legislature and the Poor Law Board upon the subject, showing the extent of the evil in this county, and praying for some legislative remedy.
3. That the only palliation of the evil attempted even has been the issue of a poor law circular, dated 28 November 1868.
4. That most of the measures there recommended had been long ago resorted to in many of the unions in this county, and of this kingdom, but with little or no good effect.
5. That under the present law it is impossible to discriminate between the honest wayfarer and the criminal tramp; and that even were such discrimination possible, it would be of little value so long as the minute of the Poor Law Board, issued by Mr. Villiers 23rd December 1863, remains in force.

6. That the evils complained of cannot be remedied by circulars of the Poor Law Board, but that considerable and immediate alterations of the law are at once required.

7. That such legislation should proceed rather from the Home Office than from the Poor Law Department, inasmuch as but a small proportion of the class in question are simple paupers; whilst the large majority are not only habitual offenders against the Vagrant Act, but availing themselves of the facilities afforded to pursue a career of crime.

8. That the aim of such legislation should be to cast upon the vagrants themselves the burden of proving (in some mode to be specified) that they are honest wayfarers. That such alone should be received into the work-houses; and that all, failing in the proof required, should be relieved at the police station, and be made amenable to the criminal law affecting vagrants.

And your memorialists will ever pray, &c.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to state that they have received, through the Reverend Edward Tayler, an application* from Bridget Healey for the removal of Mary, Ellen, Patrick, Edward, and Timothy Ahearn, from the schools belonging to the Guardians of the parish of St. Marylebone, to the respective schools established at Walthamstow, North Hyde, and Brentwood, for the reception, maintenance, and education of children of the Roman Catholic religion.

The Board have been furnished with documents in proof of Bridget Healey being the aunt of these children, and that their parents belonged to the Roman Catholic religion, and also with certificates of the burial of Edward and Catherine Ahearn.

The Board enclose, for the information of the Guardians, a copy of the correspondence which has taken place in reference to the application.

The guardians are, doubtless, aware that the Board are empowered by the 29 & 30 Vict. c. 113, to issue the order applied for; but before doing so, they will be ready to consider any observations that the guardians may wish to make on the application.

Enclosure in No. 3.

St. Marylebone, Wednesday, 9 December 1868.

AT a special meeting of the Schools Visiting Committee, held this day at the workhouse,

Resolved, "That inasmuch as the 14th section of the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1866, providing for the removal, by order of the Poor Law Board, of children from workhouse schools to schools of their own religious denomination, is permissive and not compulsory; and inasmuch as the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868, provides for the visitation and instruction (after the 1st January next) of children in the workhouse schools by ministers of their own denomination, and for the withdrawal of such children from all other religious instruction, it is desirable that the Schools Visiting Committee seek an interview with the Poor Law Board, with a view to ascertain whether, provided that the guardians make suitable provision for the visitation and instruction of the Roman Catholic children by a minister of their own denomination, and withdraw such children from all other religious instruction, the Poor Law Board will abstain from issuing orders for the removal of such children to other schools, and will permit them to remain, as heretofore, at the Southall schools, under the care and control of the guardians.

LETTER from the Secretary of St. Marylebone to the Poor Law Board.

Sir,

St. Marylebone Workhouse, W., 29 May 1869.

I AM directed by the guardians of the poor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 26th ultimo, with respect to the proposed removal of certain children to Roman Catholic Schools, also of your subsequent letters informing the guardians of applications for the removal of various other children from the workhouse and schools of this parish, and I am desired to state that the cause of the delay in replying thereto has been that the Schools Visiting Committee (to whom the various letters were referred) have been expecting to receive a communication from the Poor Law Board on the subject of the representations made by them to the President at their interview on the 6th January last, and in reply to their resolution of the 9th December 1868 (forwarded to the Poor Law Board on the 4th January 1869), asking whether, "provided that the guardians make suitable provision for the visitation and instruction of the Roman Catholic children by a minister of their own denomination, and withdraw such children from all other religious instruction, the Poor Law Board will abstain from issuing orders for the removal of such children to other schools, and will permit them to remain as heretofore, at the Southall Schools, under the care and control of the guardians."

The guardians desire me to inform you that they have since granted an application of the Rev. John Rufus Wincott, Roman Catholic Priest, St. Mary's Orphanage, North Hyde, for permission to visit and instruct the Roman Catholic children at the Southall Schools; that such children are now visited and instructed by Mr. Wincott twice a week; that they do not receive instruction in any other religious creed, and that they attend the services of their own church at St. Mary's Orphanage, North Hyde, on Sundays, and on the days of obligation required by the Roman Catholic Church; under these circumstances the guardians desire me to submit that the object of the Legislature, viz., that children, not members of the Established Church, should receive due instruction in their own religious creed is fully carried out at the Southall Schools, and therefore that there is no reason for the removal of such children therefrom.

The guardians desire me to enclose a copy of the letter from the Rev. J. R. Wincott, and of their reply thereto, also the substance of the statement made by the Schools Committee to the President at the interview on the 6th January.

As the guardians (as shown above) have fully carried out the provisions of the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1868, with respect to the religious instruction of children, not members of the Established Church, and also for the general reasons urged in the accompanying statement, I am desired to submit that there is no necessity for the removal of these children from the Southall Schools, where they are receiving religious instruction from a minister of their own denomination, and are under the care and control of the guardians.

I am, &c.

The Secretary, Poor Law Board,
Whitehall.

Enclosure 1, in No. 8.

LETTER from the Rev. J. R. Wincott, and Reply of the Guardians thereto.

Sir,

North Hyde, Hounslow, W., 4 April 1869.

IN order that the Roman Catholic children now, or hereafter to be, in the schools under your charge, may receive the religious instruction in their own faith as by law provided, I have to request that an arrangement be made as soon as possible to enable me, who am the nearest clergyman to them, of the religion to which they belong, to give them such instruction at regular stated times. And I would propose that, until it shall be found by actual trial that some other plan might with greater advantage be adopted, I should see them for instruction on Monday and Friday mornings, from 9 till 11, the boys and girls separately, for an hour each.

I must also request that none of the said Roman Catholic children be allowed to attend or to receive from any source whatever any religious instruction other than Roman Catholic.

It

It is moreover my duty to claim for the said Roman Catholic children the right to attend their own religious service at St. Mary's Catholic Church, North Hyde, the nearest church to them of the religion to which they belong, on all Sundays, and the following Feasts of Obligation; that is to say, New Year's-day, The Epiphany, Ascension-day, Corpus Christi (Thursday in Trinity Week), St. Peter and St. Paul's-day (29th June), The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary (15th August), All Saints'-day, and Christmas-day, due regard being had to the age and health of the children, and the state of the weather; and to request that they may not be allowed to attend any religious service, or to join in any prayers, other than Roman Catholic.

The Master of the St. Marylebone
Workhouse Schools, Southall.

Clerks Offices, St. Marylebone Workhouse, W.,
24 April 1869.

Reverend Sir,

I AM directed to inform you that the Schools Visiting Committee of the guardians of the poor have considered your letter of the 4th instant, on the subject of the religious instruction of the Roman Catholic children at the St. Marylebone Schools, Southall, and that they have granted your application for permission to visit and instruct such children at regular stated times.

The committee have directed the board-room at the schools to be placed at your service for the purpose of giving such instruction on Monday and Thursday mornings, from 9 to 11 o'clock; the boys and girls to be instructed separately, for one hour each. The committee hope that the alteration of one of the days from Friday (as proposed by you) to Thursday, will not occasion you any inconvenience, the latter day being more suitable to the school arrangements.

The Roman Catholic children will not be instructed in any other religious creed, and will, in accordance with your request attend their own religious service at St. Mary's Catholic Church, North Hyde, on Sundays, and on the other days named in your letter; the weather, age, and health of the children permitting and subject to your providing (as the committee are informed by the master you are willing to do) a trustworthy person to take charge of the children to and from the schools.

If you will communicate with the master of the schools he will, so far as he may be able, arrange the various details so as to best meet your convenience.

Rev. J. R. Wincott, North Hyde,

Enclosure 2, in No. 8.

SUBSTANCE of the STATEMENTS made by the Schools Visiting Committee of the Guardians of the Poor (St. Marylebone) to the President of the Poor Law Board, at their interview on the 6th January 1869.

1. THAT the parish of St. Marylebone had provided school accommodation for 500 children; that the schools had been opened eight years, and the most satisfactory results had followed; that, instead of children returning to the workhouse after a brief interval, they were now principally either placed in respectable domestic service, or in military bands, a few only being apprenticed to trades; that in the year 1868 nine girls were sent to domestic service, and 22 boys joined military bands; that only five children who had been trained in the schools and sent to domestic service therefrom were at present inmates of the workhouse.

2. That the average weekly cost, as certified by the poor law auditor, of the maintenance of children at the schools during the year ended Michaelmas last, was 4*s.* 4½*d.*, whilst the charge for the maintenance of the children sent under the orders of the Poor Law Board to Roman Catholic certified schools was 6*s.* per week, being an increase of 1*s.* 7½*d.* per week, or, (estimating the proportion of Roman Catholic children at 20 per cent.,) of 364*l.* per annum to this parish.

3. That the managers of the Roman Catholic schools are not willing to take the children under a charge of 6*s.* per week, as shown by letters in the possession of the guardians.

4. That supposing the 2,000 Roman Catholic children in the schools and workhouses of the metropolis (vide Parliamentary Return, August 1867) were transferred to Roman Catholic schools, there would be an increased charge on the common poor fund of upwards of 8,000*l.* per annum.

5. That the Roman Catholic schools not being under the rules and regulations of the Poor Law Board, there is not that security for their good government, and for the efficient training of the children as there is in the parochial schools.

6. That the guardians believe there will not be the same facilities for placing children out in the world to earn their own living from Roman Catholic schools as there are from the parochial schools, the training, management, &c., of the latter being well and publicly known, and approved of.

7. That the St. Marylebone schools at Southall have been reported upon by Mr. Tufnell, Inspector of Poor Law schools, in the most favourable manner.

8. That the placing of pauper children in schools not under the control of the guardians is entirely opposed to the principles of Poor Law Administration.

9. That if the principle of denominational schools be ever fully carried out, i. e., of placing the children in schools the property of, and governed by, the different religious bodies, the children of the Church of England would also have to be withdrawn, and parochial schools, under the control of the guardians, would cease to exist.

10. That the guardians consider that, by law, they are placed in loco parentis to the pauper children of their parish, and they feel that by the transfer of such children to schools not under the guardian's control they are precluded from discharging their responsibilities.

11. That if the Poor Law Board will permit the children to remain at the Southall schools the guardians are quite willing "to make suitable provision for the visitation and instruction of the Roman Catholic children by a minister of their own denomination, and to withdraw such children from all other religious instruction."

12. That inasmuch as by the foregoing condition ample security is given for the religious instruction of Roman Catholic children, and, as by their removal, a large increase would be made to the already heavy rates of the metropolis, and as the guardians believe that such removal would be injurious to the children by impairing their prospects of obtaining occupation on leaving the schools, they ask the Poor Law Board to exercise the discretionary power vested in them by the Legislature, and to refrain from issuing any further orders for the removal of children from the St. Marylebone parochial schools.

— No. 9. —

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians of St. Marylebone.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall,
22 June 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter (with its enclosure) on the subject of the application which has been made to them for the removal of certain Roman Catholic children from the workhouse school of the parish of St. Marylebone to Roman Catholic schools.

The Board regret to learn that the delay in dealing with the above-mentioned application has arisen from the expectation of the Schools Visiting Committee, that they would receive a communication from the Board on the subject of the representations made by them to the President, at their interview on the 6th January last, and in reply to their resolution of the 9th December 1868.

The President promised the deputation that he would carefully consider the arguments which were urged upon him, especially as regards the question of the weekly cost per child to be allowed to the Roman Catholic schools, but he was not aware that any further communication was expected by the guardians.

The guardians now propose that the Board should refuse to entertain the applications now before them for the removal of Roman Catholic children, made by persons who are entitled to make them, on the ground that the guardians are willing to allow the admission of the Catholic priest into the schools at Southall, and to provide for the religious instruction of children of the Roman Catholic faith by him, and also to prevent their attendances at other services not in accordance with their religious belief. The Board must observe that these regulations are already prescribed by the Legislature in the Act of last year, but they were not intended to prevent the application of the previous statutory provisions which enable persons, duly authorised, to apply to this Board to order particular children to be removed from a workhouse school to a school in which their own religion is taught. The Board would therefore be acting in contravention of the spirit of the Act of Parliament, if they were to find in the observations and arguments of the guardians a sufficient justification for withholding the order which they have been requested to issue in the case of the children in question. The Board invited the observations of the guardians, not on the general question of removal, which in their judgment has been clearly described by the Legislature, but with a view to ascertain whether, in any particular case, the guardians desired to mention any facts or circumstances which ought to weigh with the Board before an order for the removal of any individual child was issued.

The Board now request the guardians to furnish them, at their earliest convenience, with any facts which they may wish to bring before the notice of the Board, with regard to the various children in the Marylebone Workhouse, on whose behalf applications for removal have been made, and I am directed to add, that where no such special facts are brought to their notice the Board will feel it their duty to issue the orders forthwith.

Sir,

I AM directed by the guardians of the poor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd instant, in reply to their communication of the 29th ultimo, as to the proposed removal of certain children to Roman Catholic certified schools, and to inform you that the guardians have directed the correspondence to be printed, a copy to be furnished to each member of the Board, and that the subject will be taken into consideration at the meeting of the guardians, to be held on Friday next, the 2nd July.

— No. 11. —

LETTER from the Guardians of St. Marylebone to the Poor Law Board.

St. Marylebone Workhouse, W.,
2 July 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the guardians to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd June, in answer to their observations of the 29th May last, objecting to the proposed removal of children to Roman Catholic schools, and I am desired, in reply to your communication, to state:

1. That the guardians do not ask the Poor Law Board to “refuse to entertain the applications now before them, for the removal of Roman Catholic children, on the ground that the guardians are willing to allow the admission of the Catholic priest into the schools at Southall, and provide for the religious instruction of children of the Roman Catholic faith by him, and to prevent their attendance at other services not in accordance with their religious belief,” but on the ground, as stated in the letter of the guardians dated 29th May last, that a Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. J. R. Wincott, is now, and has been since April last, admitted to the schools; that the Roman Catholic children, since that date, have been receiving his instructions twice a week (as arranged by himself), and have been attending the services of their own church on Sundays and the days of obligation at the St. Mary’s Orphanage, North Hyde; and that such children have been withdrawn from all services or teaching not in accordance with their religious belief.

2. That the guardians are aware that the regulations for the visitation and instruction of Roman Catholic children by a Roman Catholic priest were prescribed by the Legislature in the Act of last year, and that they were not intended to prevent applications being made to the Poor Law Board for the removal of children, where sufficient cause existed for such removal, but they submit that the Legislature clearly intended that the Poor Law Board should exercise the discretionary power vested in them by section 14 of the Poor Law Amendment Act, 1866, and grant such applications only in those cases where the guardians had failed to permit or to provide for the instruction of children in their own religious creed.

3. That the guardians of St. Marylebone have fairly and honestly carried out the Act of last year; that the Roman Catholic children at the Southall Schools receive the same religious privileges as the Protestant children; that they are instructed by their priest for the same period of time as the Protestant children are instructed by the schools chaplain; and that they attend the services of their church more often (in consequence of the days of obligation) than the Protestant children do the services of the Established Church.

4. That the guardians regret that the Poor Law Board consider that they would "be acting in contravention of the spirit of the Act of Parliament" if they were to withhold the orders in the cases referred to—an opinion with which the guardians entirely differ. The Report of the Select Committee of the House of Commons of 1864, shows that the legislation was intended to remedy a grievance, which the members of the Roman Catholic Church considered they were suffering from. In the case of the St. Marylebone Schools, Southall, the guardians confidently submit that that grievance has been entirely removed, and therefore that no grounds exist for the removal of the children.

5. That in accordance with the request of the Poor Law Board, the guardians will proceed to furnish the special facts in regard to the individual case of each child, for whose removal an application has been made; but that in the meantime the guardians must record their emphatic protest against the action proposed to be taken by the Poor Law Board, which they believe to be opposed to the intention of the Act of Parliament, and to which they will therefore feel it their duty to offer every legitimate opposition.

I am, &c.

The Secretary, Poor Law Board. (signed) Joseph Bedford, Clerk.

15 July 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, in answer to theirs of the 22nd ultimo, on the subject of the removal of children from the schools at Southall to Roman Catholic schools.

The Board have carefully considered the reply of the guardians, but cannot concur with them in their interpretation of the intentions of the Legislature, as regards the removal of Roman Catholic children to schools duly certified for the reception of such children.

The Board trust that the guardians will, as soon as practicable, furnish them with the information applied for in the particular cases which are at present under consideration.

With respect to the second paragraph contained in the memorandum or statement made by the Schools Visiting Committee, as regards the cost of the maintenance tenance of children, the Board desire to point out that the sum named, viz., 4*s.* 4½*d.*, does not represent the whole actual cost to the parish of maintaining each child. That sum is the cost of mere maintenance, independently of the salaries and rations of officers, and furnishing and maintaining the school buildings. The sum of 6*s.*, which the Board have directed as the maximum amount to be paid to the managers of these schools, must therefore be compared with the total charge in respect of the relief of children in the school at Southall, as above explained.

The Board may add, that the average sum paid by unions and parishes in the metropolis, whose children are maintained in the schools belonging to other unions or districts, considerably exceeds the sum of 6*s.*

J. Bedford, Esq.,
Clerk to the Guardians of St. Marylebone.

I am, &c.
(signed) H. Fleming,
Secretary.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,

22 February 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to forward to the Guardians of the Strand Union the accompanying copy of a letter which has been addressed to the Board by Messrs. Willoughby & Cox, on behalf of Mr. H. Hart, of Great Dover-road, Southwark, complaining of the rejection of his tender for the erection of a new workhouse and other buildings for the union.

I am directed to request that the Board may be furnished with the observations of the Guardians on the statements contained in the enclosed letter.

J. Kilner, Esq.,
Clerk to the Guardians of the Strand Union.

I am, &c.
(signed) H. Fleming,
Secretary.

Enclosure in No. 1.

LETTER from Messrs. Willoughby & Cox to the Poor Law Board.

WE are instructed to represent on the part of Mr. H. Hart, of Great Dover-road, Southwark, builder, that being invited by public advertisement to tender for the erection of a new workhouse and other buildings for the Strand Union, he did accordingly, with other builders on the 9th instant, deliver in his tender for the said works to the Guardians of the said union, and herewith we send to your honourable Board the amount of each tender so delivered in, from which it will be seen that Mr. Hart's was the lowest. The Guardians accepted the tender of a Mr. Howard, which it will be seen is 1,860 l. above that of Mr. Hart's, and when asked at the time their reason for so doing, declined to give any, and said they were not bound to do so. Independently of the indignity cast on our client by such a step on the part of the Guardians, we submit to your honourable Board whether, unless Guardians have some well-founded objection to Mr. Hart, his respectability, or tender, they are justified in refusing his tender and putting the union to the additional expense of 1,860 l.; and further, whether it is fair that Mr. Hart should go to the expense of having the prices taken out for so large a quantity of work, and when his tender is the lowest, have it rejected without any reason being given for so doing other than that they have accepted a higher one.

2 CORRESPONDENCE RELATIVE TO THE CONTRACT FOR

We may be excused for saying, as a test of Mr. Hart's respectability and ability to carry out such a contract, that he contracted, built, and has been paid for the Stepney Union Workhouse at Bow, the West London Union Workhouse at Holloway, and the Croydon Union Workhouse at Croydon, and many other extensive and important works.

We respectfully send herewith a letter we have addressed to the clerk of the Guardians of the Strand Union.

We also respectfully intimate that this communication is made in no unkind spirit towards the Guardians of the Strand Union, but simply in justice to Mr. Hart.

Requesting the favour of a reply,

13, Clifford's Inn, Fleet-street, E.C.,
18 February 1869.

We have, &c.
(signed) Willoughby & Cox.

To the Honourable Members of the Poor Law Board.

Sir,

WE address you as the clerk of the Guardians of the Strand Union, on the subject of the refusal of the Guardians to accept the tender of Mr. Hart given on the public invitation of the Board and its architect, for the erection of the proposed workhouse and buildings at Edmonton, his being the lowest tender, and lower by 1,860 l. than that of Mr. Howard, accepted by the Board.

We are instructed that some gentlemen holding property in the parish, object to this additional expenditure of money; and on the part of our client, we deprecate the injustice committed on him, and the inference the public may draw therefrom, unless the Board can give some satisfactory reason for the course they have chosen to adopt.

We are quite aware that in the advertisement inviting tenders, the Board did not pledge themselves to accept the lowest tender; but such a clause we have always understood is not intended to be used capriciously, but only as a protection in case some satisfactory reason exists, rendering it necessary to resort thereto.

We are instructed to communicate with the Poor Law Board on the subject, and request that this letter may be laid before the Guardians at once, with our respectful request that they will instruct you to inform us of the reason for refusing the tender so made by our client.

Waiting any answer you may be directed to give,

13, Clifford's Inn, Fleet-street,
18 February 1869.

We are, &c.
(signed) Willoughby & Cox.

LETTER from the Guardians to the Poor Law Board.

6, Bow-street, London, W. C.,
24 February 1869.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I AM directed by the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 22nd instant, enclosing a copy of a letter which has been addressed to your Board by Messrs. Willoughby & Cox, on behalf of Mr. H. Hart, of Great Dover-street, Southwark, complaining of the rejection of his tender for the erection of the new workhouse and other buildings for the union.

In reply I am to inform you, that the Guardians did not bind themselves to accept the lowest tender, and that they were desirous to have a substantial man who would perform the works to their satisfaction, and within the limited time allowed. The whole subject was carefully considered, and a majority of the Board were of opinion that Mr. William Howard was the best person to be selected for that purpose.

I have, &c.

Clerk.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
2 March 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 24th ultimo, in which, with reference to the complaint which was made as to the rejection of Mr. Hart's tender for the erection of a new workhouse and other buildings for the Strand Union, you state that the Guardians were desirous to have a substantial person who would perform the works to their satisfaction, and within the limited time allowed.

The Board observe that in the letter addressed to them on Mr. Hart's behalf, it is stated that the Guardians accepted the tender of Mr. Howard, which was 1,860 £. above that of Mr. Hart; and the Board direct me to inquire whether they are to understand from your letter, that Mr. Howard's tender was accepted on account of his being considered a more substantial person.

James Kilner, Esq.,
Clerk to the Guardians of the Strand Union.

I am, &c.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

6, Bow-street, London, W. C.,
3 March 1869.

I AM directed by the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2nd instant, relative to the complaint which has been made of the rejection of Mr. Hart's tender for the erection of the new workhouse, and I am most respectfully to state, in reply to your inquiry, that the Board consider it inexpedient to explain their reasons further.

The Poor Law Board.

I have, &c.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians.

Sir,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
18 March 1869.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 3rd instant, relative to the rejection by the Guardians of the Strand Union of Mr. Hart's tender for the erection of a new workhouse and other buildings, and to forward, for the information of the Guardians, a copy of a communication which the Board have this day addressed to Messrs. Willoughby & Cox on the subject.

James Kilner, Esq.,
Clerk to the Guardians of the Strand Union.

I am, &c.

Secretary.

Enclosure in No. 5.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to Messrs. Willoughby & Cox.

Gentlemen,

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
18 March 1869.

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, relative to the complaint made by Mr. H. Hart, of the rejection of his tender for the erection of a new workhouse and other buildings for the Strand Union.

I am directed to state that the Board have been in communication with the Guardians on the subject, but have not received any satisfactory explanation of the grounds on which the Guardians accepted a higher tender than that of Mr. Hart.

The selection of tenders depends upon the Guardians, subject, however, to the condition that the amount of the tender accepted by them must be within the limit of expenditure prescribed by the order of the Board.

In the present instance, the Board have not yet issued any order authorising the expenditure for the purpose referred to; and consequently the proceeding of the Guardians has been premature.

Messrs. Willoughby & Cox.

I am, &c.
(signed) Arthur W. Peel, Secretary.

LETTER from the Guardians to the Poor Law Board.

6, Bow-street, London, W.C.,
24 March 1869.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I AM directed by the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 17th instant, transmitting to them the form of an order proposed to be issued for the purpose of authorising the Guardians of the Strand Union to cause a new workhouse to be built at Edmonton, and requesting the blanks in the same to be filled up according to your directions, and that the signatures of a majority of the Guardians be attached to the consent.

I am directed to inform you that your directions have been complied with, and that the consent has been signed by a majority of the Board, namely, by 23 members; which I now return herewith to you.

I have, &c.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
13 April 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 24th ultimo, returning the form of order for the erection of the new workhouse at Edmonton.

The Board observe that the Guardians have filled up the blank left in this form for the amount of the expenditure, with the sum of 54,000 l.; the estimate given by the architect, Mr. Cross, was only 52,000 l.; and the Board have learnt that there was a tender before the Guardians at a sum which was less by nearly 2,000 l. than the tender which the Guardians desire finally to adopt. The Board understand the lower tender was made by a responsible and respectable firm. The circumstances before the Board lead to the inference that the sum required has been put at 54,000 l. instead of 52,000 l., in consequence of the higher tender having been accepted; and the Board, with the information before them, do not feel justified, due regard being had to the interest of the ratepayers, in inserting a larger amount as that which they authorise for the building of the workhouse than appears to be necessary.

If the Guardians have any reasons which would prove the necessity for inserting the larger sum, the Board will be glad to be put into possession of the necessary explanation.

I am, &c.

LETTER from the Guardians to the Poor Law Board.

6, Bow-street, London, W. C.,
14 April 1869.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I AM directed by the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th instant, relative to the blank left in the form for the amount of the expenditure for building the new workhouse house being filled in with the sum of 54,000 l., the estimate given by Mr. Cross being only 52,000 l.; and you state that your Board have learned that there was a tender before the Guardians at a sum which was less by nearly 2,000 l. than the tender which the Guardians desire finally to adopt. That such tender was made by a responsible and respectable firm. That such circumstances lead to the inference that the sum required has been put at 54,000 l. instead of 52,000 l., in consequence of the higher tender having been accepted. That with such information before you, you do not feel justified, due regard being had to the interest of the ratepayers, in inserting a larger amount than appears to be necessary; and you further state that if the Guardians have any reasons which would prove the necessity for inserting the larger sum, you will be glad to be put in possession of the necessary explanation.

In reply, I am to state, with reference to the tender referred to, that the Guardians believe they have good reasons for rejecting it; but they do not think it prudent publicly to announce them. The question was, at the time, fully debated; and after much consideration, the one adopted was selected. With regard to the sum inserted in the blank space, I am to furnish you with the following figures, as the mode in which it was made up:

Amount of the tender - - - - -	45,800
Engineering works, &c., not included in the tender - - - - -	5,200
	51,000
Architect's commission - - - - -	2,550
Clerk of works - - - - -	150
	53,700
Margin for extras - - - - -	300
	£. 54,000

I am further to state that the Guardians have laboured under many disadvantages in regard to their proceedings relative to the erection of the new workhouse. They have experienced much anxiety in reference to the land for the site. They agreed to purchase it on the 4th day of August 1868, and since that time until Monday last the most vexatious impediments have been thrown in the way of completing the purchase, whilst their desire to keep faith with the Government, who have been pressing upon them the vacating of the Castle-street workhouse, compelled them to urge forward the other proceedings, such as determining the plans for the erection, advertising for tenders, and other measures connected therewith, nearly all of which have been impeded in a manner they had no right to anticipate. I am therefore to urge upon your Board a favourable consideration of their position, and to solicit as early a decision with regard to the issue of the order to build, and the authority to borrow the necessary funds.

With regard to the latter, the Guardians were led to expect that the portion which will be chargeable upon the parish of St. Martin-in-the-Fields would have been available from the funds received by the Guardians of that parish for the old workhouse to that extent; they learn, however, from a letter received from Mr. Dangerfield, that the Bill before Parliament is merely a Bill to enable that parish "to receive the money belonging to it, now in the bank, and to apply it for the permanent advantage of the parish." It will therefore be necessary that your authority should extend to the borrowing the entire sum.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
20 April 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th instant, relative to the workhouse proposed to be erected for the Strand Union at Edmonton.

With reference to the tender which has been accepted by the Guardians, the Board regret that they are still without such information as would enable them to issue an order authorising the expenditure of a sum so much in excess of that for which, as it would appear by the tender referred to in the preceding letter of the Board, the new workhouse could be erected.

Upon referring to a statement with which they have been furnished, setting forth the amounts of the several tenders sent in to the Guardians, the Board observe that in addition to the tender of Mr. Hart, there were two others, viz., those of Messrs. Hill, Keddell, & Waldram, and Messrs. Cooper & Cullum, which were considerably less than the tender of Mr. Howard.

Though the Guardians may be willing to undertake the responsibility of imposing a greater expenditure on the ratepayers than, judging by the tenders received, appears to be necessary, this Board cannot undertake to give their authority for such an increase so long as they remain without information as to the reasons which influenced the Guardians in arriving at their decision.

The Board do not suppose that the Guardians were induced to accept a higher tender from any other motive than that the contractor whom they selected had proved himself superior, by the works he had previously executed, to his competitors, or was considered to offer a better guarantee for solvency.

At the same time the Board themselves have not been furnished with any information throwing doubt upon the ability of the firms by whom the three lowest tenders were sent in to execute the proposed new building in conformity with the plans and specifications; and in the case of Mr. Hart it is within their knowledge that he has undertaken and completed several large and important workhouses.

Under these circumstances the Board feel that they ought not to undertake the responsibility of issuing the order without receiving such an explanation as would justify them in sanctioning the increased expenditure.

It must not be supposed, from the preceding observations, that the Board wish to lay it down as an absolute rule, that the lowest tender ought, in all cases, to be accepted; but it is clear that when public bodies select a competitor, tendering at a higher amount, they ought to be able to explain their reasons for the preference.

LETTER from the Guardians to the Poor Law Board.

6, Bow-street, W.C.,
24 April 1869.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I HAVE the honour, on behalf of the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union, to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 20th instant, and to communicate the substance of the representations made to the President of your Board, at an interview which Mr. Goodchild, the senior vice-chairman, and myself had with him on Friday the 23rd instant, upon the subject of the difficulty which had arisen in regard to the tenders for the erection of the proposed new workhouse for the Strand Union at Edmonton.

It was admitted by the President that the Guardians had the undoubted right to determine the tenders sent in for the erection of the building, and that they were not bound to accept the lowest tender; but he considered that due regard had not been paid to the interests of the ratepayers in accepting a tender nearly 2,000*l.* in excess of another from a responsible party; and that sufficient deliberation had not been observed on the occasion, for that the consideration of the question might have been adjourned for a fortnight to admit of inquiries as to the respectability of the party making the lowest tender.

His attention was called to an extract from the minutes of the proceedings of the Board, giving a report of an interview with the authorities of Her Majesty's Board of Works, &c., who had been urgently pressing the Guardians for the possession of the workhouse in Castle-street, which had been purchased for the enlargement of the National Gallery, and a letter which was subsequently received from the secretary of that Board; copies of both which documents are annexed hereto.

We ventured to urge upon the President that it appeared to the Guardians from these documents that it was of the utmost consequence that no delay should be permitted in accepting the tenders, in order that the new workhouse might be proceeded with; and that as Mr. Howard was well known to many of them to be a man of substance, who had executed large works, and that those whose tenders were lower were unknown to them, they, in the exercise of their discretion, accepted Mr. Howard's tender.

We further called attention to the evidence of proper care and deliberation, as shown on the face of the minutes of the proceedings, when the tender was accepted, for Mr. Howard's tender was only accepted after two divisions had been taken upon two others. A copy of these minutes will be found appended.

We further took occasion to mention the fact that similar occurrences had taken place before the Board of Management of the Metropolitan Asylum District, when they received the tenders for the two asylums at Leavesden and Caterham. The tender accepted for the Leavesden Asylum being 4,113*l.*, and that for the Caterham Asylum being 4,032*l.*, in excess of the lowest tender presented. We also stated that when our own schools were enlarged in 1864, the tender then accepted was not the lowest, and that we had been informed that the tender for the new Islington Workhouse was greatly in excess of the lowest tender.

With

With regard to its effect upon the ratepayer, we took occasion to state that the actual annual addition to his burden of the sum of 2,000*l.*, with interest at five per cent. repayable in 20 years, would be annually one-third part of a farthing in the pound upon the rateable value of the property in the union.

We further mentioned the circumstance, that the contractor under the pressing need for exertion, had already a large plant upon the land, which was daily increasing, and that even a day's delay had become of great moment, as there remained little more than seven months to complete a workhouse to contain 800 inmates.

It was also insisted upon by us that the tender was accepted by the late board of guardians, and that it would be an exceedingly unfortunate occurrence if the new board, who had just entered upon office, should find themselves responsible for errors and mistakes of their predecessors.

We represented that occasions arose, when, from a knowledge that the pressure upon the resources of a department under Government, such as the Poor Law Board, was considerable, it was not unusual to anticipate an approval before it actually arrived, and we gave recent instances by way of illustration; but that we were not prepared to anticipate, that when all but the last stage had been reached, that a difficulty such as the present could have arisen; a difficulty which we thought to be without precedent.

Under all these circumstances, we felt bound earnestly, but respectfully, to solicit from the President a favourable consideration for the difficulties in which the guardians would be involved by an unfavourable decision at his hands; that it would be utterly impossible to fulfil their engagement with Her Majesty's Board of Works to vacate the workhouse in Castle-street; that they might be involved in litigation; that proceedings of this character were so infrequent that errors and irregularities were scarcely to be avoided; and that we trusted he would not feel himself precluded from authorising the issue of the necessary order forthwith, whereby they themselves and their officials would be relieved from further doubt and anxiety.

I have, &c.

The Poor Law Board.

Enclosure in No. 12.

EXTRACT of MINUTES, dated 24th November 1868.

THE Chairman reported that the deputation appointed at the last meeting attended at the office of Her Majesty's Board of Works, &c., in Whitehall-place, on Monday last, and as the First Commissioner was absent on his election for Member of Parliament, they had an interview with Mr. Austin the secretary, Mr. Gardiner the solicitor, and Mr. Hunt the surveyor; and they entered into a full explanation of the circumstances which had rendered it necessary to apply for an extension of the term for giving up to the Government the workhouse in Castle-street; also the grounds upon which the Guardians expected to be prepared to build their new workhouse to enable them to vacate the old one by the 31st December 1869. The secretary promised to communicate the decision of the Board of Works in writing.

COPY of LETTER from Her Majesty's Board of Works, &c.

Sir,

Office of Works, &c., S.W., 10 December 1868.

ADVERTING to the interview which a deputation from the Guardians of the Poor of the Strand Union, accompanied by yourself, had with this Board on the 23rd ultimo, in reference to the workhouse in the parish of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, I am directed by the First Commissioner of Her Majesty's Works, &c. to state, that the Board understood from the representations then made to them, that the Guardians will have so far completed their new workhouse in July or August next, as to enable them to remove the inmates of the St. Martin's workhouse. This being the case, the Board will shape their course with reference to the taking possession of the workhouse accordingly. At the same time, I am desired to impress upon the Guardians the absolute necessity of the Board obtaining such possession before the close of the coming year (1869), and that the consequences of any steps taken by the Board for obtaining possession by that time, if possession is not voluntarily given by the Guardians, must rest entirely with the latter.

I am, &c.

LETTER from the Poor Law Board to the Guardians.

Poor Law Board, Whitehall, S.W.,

27 April 1869.

Sir,

I AM directed by the Poor Law Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 24th instant, on the subject of the course adopted by the Guardians of the Strand Union, in accepting the tender of Mr. Howard for the erection of the new workhouse at Edmonton.

The Board direct me to state that it is, in their opinion, evident from the letter of the Guardians that an increased expense of 2,000 l. has been unnecessarily incurred by them. The Guardians state that they were so pressed for time, that they were obliged to accept one of the tenders on the day in which it was arranged that the tenders should be opened. It is clear, however, that if the Guardians did not allow themselves any time for inquiry into the merits of the various competitors, the whole proceeding became almost a matter of form; the competition being thus in effect limited to such contractors as were personally known to the Guardians.

It is admitted by the Guardians, that they accepted Mr. Howard's tender, not because they were convinced that his tender was the best for the interests of the union, but because he was known to many of the Guardians, whilst as regards others they had no information and made no inquiries.

The Board cannot admit that deliberation is proved simply by the fact that two divisions took place before Mr. Howard's tender was accepted, especially as one of the other tenders, the acceptance of which was proposed, was higher than that of Mr. Howard, and was made by a contractor who, being personally known to the Guardians, and being resident in the Strand Union, was in the same position as Mr. Howard.

The fact that in other instances the lowest tender has not been accepted by public bodies cannot in any way affect the present case, which is simply confined to the question whether the cost of the new workhouse will not be 2,000 l. higher than is necessary; and the Board are surprised that the Guardians think that the views of the Board on the matter can in any way be modified by the statement that the "2,000 l., with interest at 5 per cent., repayable in 20 years, would be annually one-third part of a farthing in the pound on the rateable value of the property in the union."

The remaining portion of the letter of the Guardians places before the Board considerations urged with a view to induce the Board to authorise the acceptance of the contract. The Board are ready to admit that the error having once been made, of accepting and acting upon the tender in question, it might be costly and inconvenient now if the contract were to be cancelled, and fresh tenders procured; moreover, the completion of the building in the shortest time possible is clearly of the utmost importance; under these circumstances, the Board, though with much reluctance, will authorise the expenditure to which the Board of Guardians have pledged themselves.

Clerk to the Guardians of the Strand Union.

Note.—This Table represents the facts for the parochial year 1868; but, subsequently, and under the provisions of "The Metropolitan Poor Relief Act, 1867," changes have been made in some of the places named above. The parish of St. Martin-in-the-Fields has been added to the Strand Union, from which the parish of St. Anne, Soho, has been removed, to form, with St. James, Westminster, the Westminster Union. From the Greenwich Union Woolwich parish has been taken, and, with the parishes of Charlton, Kidbrooke, and Plumstead, now constitutes the Woolwich Union. The three parishes last named have been detached from the Lewisham Union.

The area of St. George, Hanover-square, includes 350 acres, "the acreage of Kensington Gardens, Hyde Park, and Buckingham Palace and Gardens;" that of St. Margaret and St. John from 400 to 500 acres, "the acreage of the Royal parks in these parishes."

Chief Clerk.

(Mr. Bruen.)

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,

NOTES IN EXPLANATION.

I.—PRESENT AVERAGE WEEKLY COST PER HEAD OF PERSONS RELIEVED.

This has been entered at foot of each Return as additional information of some value, and will enable the average daily number in receipt of relief for any electoral division or union to be calculated, if it be desired to do so, by dividing the total annual cost by the annual cost for one person.

II.—UNION AT LARGE.

The amount shown in the Tables, being limited to in-maintenance and out-door relief, shows only a portion of the union charges. The following are the principal of such charges:—

In-maintenance and out-door relief chargeable to the Union	£.
at large, as per Tables - - - - -	130,834
Establishment Charges - - - - -	181,007
Expenses under the Registration Acts - - - - -	12,453
	£. 324,294

The total expenditure under the Poor Relief and Registration Acts, included in Column 5, amounts to 720,008 £., of which the above union charges form 45 per cent.

Column 5 includes the sum of 121,964 £. for medical charities relief, and vaccination expenses, which strictly are neither electoral division nor union charges, but are charged according to net annual value upon the electoral divisions comprised in the dispensary districts, which contain, on an average, four electoral divisions each.

The total amount in Column 5, amounting to 841,286 £., may be thus stated:—

Union Charges - - - - -	329,700	or 39·2 per cent.
Dispensary District Charges - - - - -	121,965	„ 14·5 „
Electoral Division Charges - - - - -	389,621	„ 46·3 „
	£. 841,286	100

III.—In preparing the SUMMARY of UNIONS, certain columns, which are applicable only to electoral divisions, have been omitted, and other columns introduced, showing the effect of union rating on the electoral division with the highest poundage of expenditure, and also on that with the lowest. Columns to show the average weekly cost of in-maintenance and out-door relief for each union are also introduced into the Summary.

RETURN showing the AREA, POPULATION, PAUPERISM, and EXPENDITURE for the RELIEF of the POOR, also a COMPARATIVE STATEMENT of the POOR RATE under the present System, and under UNION RATING, for each ELECTORAL DIVISION of each POOR LAW UNION in Ireland, for the Year ending the 29th day of September 1868.

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

APRIL 1868 and 1869.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 July 1869.

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the “Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;” nor, the number of “Vagrants” relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1868), the number contained in the two classes was 3·05 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number to the same degree as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are, at present, 14,886* parishes, inclusive of the Scilly Islands, in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor: returns of pauperism are received, weekly, in respect of 14,695 of that number; 191 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert’s Act, or still under the provisions of the 43rd Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers which they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

I. THE METROPOLIS. 1.*Middlesex (part of). 2.*Surrey (part of). 3.*Kent (part of).	IV. EASTERN. 14. Essex. 15. Suffolk. 16. Norfolk.	VII. NORTH MIDLAND. 28. Leicester. 29. Rutland. 30. Lincoln. 31. Nottingham. 32. Derby.

The following is a Tabular Statement of the Number of Unions and Parishes;

* Many places, not heretofore liable to maintain their own poor, are becoming parishes, under the operation of the Extra-parochial Places Act; to what extent this will ultimately increase the number of parishes in England and Wales, cannot at present be stated.

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

MAY 1868 and 1869.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 July 1869.

M E M O R A N D U M.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1868), the number contained in the two classes was 3·05 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number to the same degree as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are, at present, 14,886* parishes, inclusive of the Scilly Islands, in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor: returns of pauperism are received, weekly, in respect of 14,695 of that number; 191 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or still under the provisions of the 43rd Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers which they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

I. THE METROPOLIS. 1.*Middlesex (part of). 2.*Surrey (part of). 3.*Kent (part of).	IV. EASTERN. 14. Essex. 15. Suffolk. 16. Norfolk.	VII. NORTH MIDLAND. 28. Leicester. 29. Rutland. 30. Lincoln. 31. Nottingham. 32. Derby.

The following is a Tabular Statement of the Number of Unions and Parishes;

* Many places, not heretofore liable to maintain their own poor, are becoming parishes, under the operation of the Extra-parochial Places Act; to what extent this will ultimately increase the number of parishes in England and Wales, cannot at present be stated.

QUARTERLY STATEMENT AS TO PAUPERISM,
MIDSUMMER 1869.

(Paupers in Lunatic Asylums and Vagrants not included.)

THE present Return completes the Monthly Series for the Quarter ended at Midsummer 1869. The four following Tables are given in continuation of those prefixed to the Monthly publication for March last.

The Tables are—

- 1st. ENGLAND and WALES; the pauperism in the consecutive weeks of the quarter.
- 2nd. —————; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.
- 3rd. NORTH MIDLAND, NORTH WESTERN, and YORK DIVISIONS; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.
- 4th. THE METROPOLIS; the comparative pauperism of the quarter.

1.—In the 1st Table, each week, compared with its predecessor, shows a decrease in the number of Paupers; 1,012,741 were the numbers relieved in the last week of March (Lady-day); but in the 4th week of June (Midsummer) they have fallen to 932,218, which is a decrease of 80,523, or 8·0 per cent. less at Midsummer than Lady-day.

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1868), the number contained in the two classes was 3·05 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number to the same degree as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are, at present, 14,886* parishes, inclusive of the Scilly Islands, in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor: returns of pauperism are received, weekly, in respect of 14,695 of that number; 191 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or still under the provisions of the 43rd Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers which they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

I. THE METROPOLIS. 1.*Middlesex (part of). 2.*Surrey (part of). 3.*Kent (part of).	IV. EASTERN. 14. Essex. 15. Suffolk. 16. Norfolk.	VII. NORTH MIDLAND. 28. Leicester. 29. Rutland. 30. Lincoln. 31. Nottingham. 32. Derby.

The following is a Tabular Statement of the Number of Unions and Parishes;

* Many places, not heretofore liable to maintain their own poor, are becoming parishes, under the operation of the Extra-parochial Places Act; to what extent this will ultimately increase the number of parishes in England and Wales, cannot at present be stated.

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

JULY 1868 and 1869.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 July 1869.

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1868), the number contained in the two classes was 3·05 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number to the same degree as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are, at present, 14,886* parishes, inclusive of the Scilly Islands, in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor: returns of pauperism are received, weekly, in respect of 14,695 of that number; 191 parishes, incorporated under Gilbert's Act, or still under the provisions of the 43rd Elizabeth, make no return of the number of paupers which they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

The following is a Tabular Statement of the Number of Unions and Parishes;

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

AUGUST 1868 and 1869.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 July 1869.

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number to the same degree as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are, at present, 14,886 parishes, inclusive of the Scilly Islands, in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor: returns of pauperism are now received, weekly, in respect of 14,808 of that number; 78 parishes make no return at present of the number of paupers which they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

The Pauper Lunatics in Asylums are not generally subject to variations in number to the same degree as the other classes of Paupers; and the number of Vagrants relieved by the Unions throughout the country has become too small to need a return so frequently as once a week. These considerations led to the exclusion of the two classes.

There are, at present, 14,886 parishes, inclusive of the Scilly Islands, in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor: returns of pauperism are received, weekly, in respect of 14,808 of that number; 78 parishes make no return at present of the number of paupers which they relieve.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following view:

I. THE METROPOLIS.	IV. EASTERN.	VII. NORTH MIDLAND.
1.*Middlesex (part of).	14. Essex.	28. Leicester.

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

OCTOBER 1868 and 1869.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 July 1869.

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

Out of the total number of 14,886 parishes in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor, returns of pauperism are now received, weekly, in respect of 14,860.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following Tabular Statement. The Number of Unions and Parishes, and the Population ascribable to each Division, is also shown, but exclusive of those Parishes from which no Weekly Returns are received :

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

NOVEMBER 1868 and 1869.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 July 1869.

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

Out of the total number of 14,886 parishes in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor, returns of pauperism are now received, weekly, in respect of 14,860.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following Tabular Statement. The Number of Unions and Parishes, and the Population ascribable to each Division, is also shown, but exclusive of those Parishes from which no Weekly Returns are received :

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

Out of the total number of 14,886 parishes in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor, Returns of pauperism are now received, weekly, in respect of 14,860.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following Tabular Statement. The Number of Unions and Parishes, and the Population ascribable to each Division, is also shown, but exclusive of those Parishes from which no Weekly Returns are received :

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

JANUARY 1869 and 1870.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,
19 July 1869.

MEMORANDUM.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the “Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;” nor, the number of “Vagrants” relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

Out of the total number of 14,894 parishes in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor, Returns of pauperism are now received, weekly, in respect of 14,883.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following Tabular Statement. The Number of Unions and Parishes, and the Population ascribable to each Division, is also shown, but exclusive of those Parishes from which no Weekly Returns are received :

RETURN (A.)—COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF PAUPERISM.

FEBRUARY 1869 and 1870.

Ordered, by The House of Commons, to be Printed,

M E M O R A N D U M.

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

Out of the total number of 14,894 parishes in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor, Returns of pauperism are now received, weekly, in respect of 14,883.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following Tabular Statement. The Number of Unions and Parishes, and the Population ascribable to each Division, is also shown, but exclusive of those Parishes from which no Weekly Returns are received :

AS TO THE ARRANGEMENT OF THE WEEKLY RETURNS OF PAUPERISM.

THE Returns of the Number of Paupers relieved on the last day of each Week, do not include the "Lunatic Paupers in Asylums and Licensed Houses;" nor, the number of "Vagrants" relieved. These classes form only a small portion of the entire pauperism of the country. According to the latest Returns (1st January 1869), the number contained in the two classes was 3·3 per cent. of the total pauperism.

Out of the total number of 14,894 parishes in England and Wales, maintaining, or liable to maintain, their own poor, Returns of pauperism are now received, weekly, in respect of 14,883.

The Returns are arranged under eleven divisions. The Union-Counties which fall under each are shown in the following Tabular Statement. The Number of Unions and Parishes, and the Population ascribable to each Division, is also shown, but exclusive of those Parishes from which no Weekly Returns are received :

No. 1.—REMARKS ON THE RETURNS OF PAUPERISM, 1ST JANUARY 1870.

THE present Publication contains the Tabulated Returns of 649* Unions and Single Parishes under Boards of Guardians ; but in respect of two places, namely, the Incorporation of Shrewsbury and that of Montgomery and Pool, the Returns are limited to the number of In-door Paupers relieved.

The aggregate population of the 649 places, by the Census of 1861, was 20,053,676 ; and the total number of Paupers on the 1st January 1870, was—

169,471	915,727	1,085,198	377	1,084,821

This gives the proportion of Paupers as 1 in 18 ; or 5·4 per cent. on the actual population, according to the Census of 1861.

The first Table exhibits the number of males, females, and children, and the number of vagrants, the latter being returned without distinction of sex, relieved in-door and out-door, and Medical Relief cases not classified.

No. 1.—REMARKS ON THE RETURNS OF IN AND OUT-DOOR RELIEF.

HALF YEAR ENDED LADY-DAY 1870.

THE Returns of In-maintenance and Out-door Relief, printed at pp. 10 et seq., have been received from 649* Unions and single Parishes under Boards of Guardians; but two of that number, namely, Shrewsbury, and Montgomery and Pool, give the cost of In-maintenance only.

Number of Unions returned.

The amount expended in the 649 Unions and Parishes during the half-year was, for—

The population of the places referred to was 20,053,676, according to the Census of 1861; the entire population of England and Wales being 20,066,224.

The following Table is a comparative statement of the expenditure for the half-years ended at Lady-day 1868, 1869, and 1870, in 646 Unions and single Parishes :

Comparative Expenditure in Divisions.

Notwithstanding the severity of the last winter, which caused temporarily a serious increase in pauperism in the months of February and March 1870, it will be seen that, comparing the expenditure in England and Wales for In-maintenance and Out-door Relief of the Lady-day half-year, 1870, with that of 1869,

1869, there was only a net increase of 12,801 l., or one-half per cent.; six Divisions showing an increased cost, and five a decreased cost.

A Column showing with respect to the Out-door Paupers, the cost of Relief in Kind has been added to this Return. About five-sixths of the total expenditure for Out-door Relief is given in money, and one-sixth in kind. The sum spent as Relief in Kind is shown for each separate Union at pp. 10 to 29. It appears that out of the 649 Unions of England and Wales, 110 during the past half-year administered all their relief to Out-door Paupers in money.

Information has also been collected with regard to the average weekly cost per head of paupers maintained in the workhouse. Columns have been introduced into this Return exhibiting the outlay for food and necessities and for clothing separately. This information may be useful to Boards of Guardians, by enabling them to compare their expenditure more in detail with that of other Unions.

(a) Westbourne.—The clerk states, that “the guardians have discontinued Relief in Kind, it having been made to appear that value would be much more to the pauper's advantage, as the relief in flour was very generally exchanged by the paupers for other necessities at a great disadvantage. The guardians therefore determined to give relief in money instead of flour, based from quarter to quarter on the contract price for bread supplied for the inmates of the Workhouse.”

* The details of these Valuations will be found in the following Papers, printed by Order of the House of Commons; viz., No. 235, "Real Property," 1842; No. 735, "Poor Rates, &c." 1848; No. 539, "Poor Rate Assessment," 1852; No. 63, "Population, &c. of Parishes," 1858; and No. 251, "Population, Inhabited Houses, &c.," 1859. The "Gross Estimated Rental," and the "Rateable Value" for each Parish is given with respect to the Parochial year 1856 in No. 491, "Poor Rates, &c.," Session 1861; in the "Electoral Returns" of 1865-66, presented by Command of Her Majesty, and No. 497, "Local Taxation," 1868.

It is to be observed that £. 4,100,899, or more than one-third of the whole Poor Rates now levied, are expended for "other purposes" than the Relief of the Poor. Some of these are partly connected with the Relief of the Poor, but the greater portion are totally unconnected with it. The figures which represent for 1868-69 the whole expenditure out of the Rates are these —

The

The column in the Return, which succeeds that of "Total Expenditure," contains the expense of Medical Relief only; this consists of salaries to the Medical Officers; extra Medical Fees paid to them under the General Consolidated Order; also, the cost (if any) of medical and surgical appliances, and drugs. The sums in this column are not additional to those given in Column 4, § A, of the Return; because the various items of Medical Relief are included in sub-columns (e) or (f), as forming a portion of the "Relief to the Poor:" the "Medical Relief" is printed separately, as indicating an important and special subject of Poor Law administration.

The sums expended under this head during the last seven years were as follows:

For 1862-63 - - - - -	£. 248,286
1863-64 - - - - -	253,204
1864-65 - - - - -	259,833

1867-68 - - - - -	272,341
1868-69 - - - - -	282,115

Twenty-six Unions and single Parishes, chiefly Metropolitan, are combined into School Districts; the contributions which each Union makes to the Treasurer of its district are included in the other items of relief, and, as such, entered in the proper columns of the Poor Rate Return; this, then, like the Medical Relief, does not represent any additional expenditure, having been heretofore properly included in the amounts printed opposite to the respective Unions concerned.

The sums contributed to the School Districts, and the sums expended by each district, during the parochial year 1868-69, are contained in the subjoined Table:—

of Expenditure for purposes unconnected with Relief.

This part of the Poor-Rate Expenditure, which is entirely foreign to the object originally contemplated in the enactment of the rate, has greatly increased since the passing of the Poor Law Amendment Act in 1834, in consequence of the imposition of new and the augmentation of old charges. The next Table exhibits, separately, all the charges referred to, so far as the

No. 1.—REMARKS ON THE RETURN OF INSANE PAUPERS, CHARGEABLE ON THE 1ST JANUARY 1870.

Source of Information.

1. THE Statistics of Pauper Insanity contained in this Paper have been compiled from the lists of the Insane chargeable to the Poor Rates on the 1st January 1870. These lists are made out annually by the Clerks to the Guardians, and transmitted to the Poor Law Board, in compliance with the 16 & 17 Vict. c. 97, s. 64, and in the form prescribed by Schedule D. of that Statute.

Places returned.

2. Returns have been received from 649 Unions and Single Parishes under Boards of Guardians. The number of Insane Paupers chargeable to the Poor Rates in those places on that day is shown below :—

Population, 1861.	Number of Paupers on 1st January 1870.	Whereof were Insane Paupers.
20,053,676	1,084,821	46,548

Thus 4·3 per cent. of the Pauperism, on the 1st January last, is ascribable to Insanity. In regard to the sexes, 20,829 were Males, and 25,719 Females.

Insane Paupers,
1st January 1870.

3. In the next Statement, the number of Insane Paupers is shown for each Division of England and Wales, with the total number of Paupers of all classes relieved on the same day.
